

Armor of Comfort*

(from Dragon Magazine #181)

Armor of comfort is as comfortable to wear as ordinary clothing, and it may be slept in with no problems. For someone adventuring in the wilderness and camping out where an attack can come at any time, this comes close to being the ultimate low-level lifesaver. A suit of mundane armor that you already have on is far superior to armor +5 that you don't have time to put on before the nocturnal raiders of your choice are in the middle of the camp.
