

Synergized Impact Network Exchange (SINE)

SINE creates synergy. SINE is a global alliance of social innovators committed to large-scale behavior change through collaborative learning, innovation, and unprecedented unified action. We are a transformative collective. Our syndicated meta-network amplifies the positive impact of our alliance member's initiatives.

We have documented remarkable results by harnessing trust to practice collective empowerment. By co-managing and leveraging online assets and resources we demonstrate how collective capacity building can uplevel and amplify social change initiatives and their outputs, outcomes, and impacts.

What problem does SINE address?

We say we want to work together, but remain apart. Many impactful innovations are isolated and challenged to find resources and exposure to effectively scale. How do like-minded solutionaries effectively lend resources and support to each other to scale up the most impactful innovations for the good of the whole? For solutions to be adopted you need wide-spread awareness. SINE addresses the fragmentation, silo effect, and missed opportunities that limit how we turn what we have into what we need.

How does SINE address the problem?

Brave. Kind. Fun. Results. SINE is a by-invitation community that uses “trusted-sharing” to create a dynamic change process for fueling “collective empowerment” of its members and the causes they serve. SINE is a syndicated network of networks that produce “synergized impacts” significantly expanding and optimizing the reach, engagement, and outcomes for its members. We provide education, training, and support for each other in a culture of caring and sharing. SINE empowers and inspires our collective capacity to produce transformative social change.

Who does SINE aim to serve?

SINE maintains a syndicated network of networks with intergenerational and cross-cultural members that are diverse innovators, social change artists, evolutionary leaders, musicians, artists, change agents, conscious organizations, and networks who synergize to cocreate unprecedented unified action for a just, safe, and thriving world for all Life on Earth. SINE serves these social innovators and the causes they serve with common pool assets, education, training, synergized strategies, and support.

What is the change we hope to make in this world with SINE?

We create synergy. The SINE Network is a connecting, amplifying and empowering networked resource that shows how much more we can do by doing it together. Members create SINE Waves in support of each other and transformative social change. One of our audacious goals is the launch of a decade devoted to achieving the UN Global Goals and launching a game to change the world, Peace on Earth by 2030.

How does SINE Work?

SINE taps into an underutilized resource - social media assets - and transforms their potential to reach and collectively engage millions of people in support of scalable social innovations. SINE is fueled by an ethos of “caring and sharing” and this approach overcomes some of the traditional coordination and cooperation dilemmas. SINE offers a practical way to harness and amplify our collective capacity to build and maintain trust for each other and turn that trust into win-win-win solutions and outcomes.

SINE Members R.E.F.I.N.E themselves and each other and participate in monthly “collaboratories” and “social media cafes” hosted on Zoom while staying connected between online sessions and face to face events via a private FB group. We engage to REFINE ourselves, our creations and campaigns, and each other in six domains:

1. Reach
2. Engagement
3. Funding
4. Impact
5. Network
6. Exchange

SINE Members connect using “trusted-sharing” and play “Let’s make SINE Waves!” A member creates a livestream and other SINE members agree, in advance, to share that members livestream creating a wave as it flows through the SINE Syndicated Network of Networks amplifying and reaching a far bigger audience. SINE members can also act as “stream keepers” engaging with the people that the wave is reaching. We have many examples of remarkable success.
