WHAT IS SMART PRODUCT BUILDER?

Smart Product Builder is a comprehensive training and system that includes four detailed training videos that teaches your clients the workflow and also a built in powerful AI software that puts it all together!

We created this system for one simple reason:

To give digital creators a modern, AI-ready way to build laser-targeted digital products without guesswork, overwhelm, or false starts.

It's not another theory. It's not another tool to figure out. It's a complete product creation system designed for how digital products are built now, not how they were built years ago.

This isn't just another info product. This is 100% pure actionable content and expert guidance:

- 4 Detailed Training Videos
- AI Powered Software
- Transcripts for Each Video
- Product Creation Resources

It's ideal for:

- Beginners to Intermediate Marketers

- Affiliates, coaches, consultants
- Anyone looking to build an online business that will generate long-term revenue

Funnel Breakdown

FRONT END - $27 (50% Commission)
- They get instant access to all training videos.

Subject: AI just made product creation harder… here's the fix

Preview: A simple workflow that turns ideas into polished products fast.

Body:

Hey [Name],

AI was supposed to make creating digital products easier.

But for most people, it did the opposite.

More tools. More prompts. More options.

And somehow… less clarity.

If you've ever stared at a blank page (or a ChatGPT window) thinking:

"What should I even create?" — you're not alone.

That's why I want to show you Smart Product Builder.

It's a complete product creation system that starts with a proven workflow (so you're not guessing), then gives you a built-in AI web app that guides you from idea → structure → finished product assets.

Subject: The hidden reason most AI-made products don't sell

Preview: It's not the content… it's the lack of structure.

Body:

Hey [Name],

Here's the uncomfortable truth:

Most AI-made "products" don't fail because the content is bad.

They fail because the creator never made the most important decisions.

Who is this for?

What outcome does it deliver?

What should be included (and what should be left out)?

Without a framework, AI just magnifies confusion.

Smart Product Builder solves this by giving you:

1) A modern product creation workflow (so you know what matters first)

2) A purpose-built AI product creation app (so you make the right choices as you build)

The result: focused, highly targeted products that feel premium and drive sales.

Take a look at how it works:

Subject: From rough idea → product roadmap (in minutes)

Preview: Stop brainstorming for days. Start building with clarity.

Body:

Hey [Name],

If you can describe:

• your niche

• your audience

• the core problem you solve

…you can generate a complete, multi-module product roadmap that actually makes sense.

That's one of the big advantages inside Smart Product Builder.

Instead of dumping random content on you, the software helps you create a structured outline you can build from — the "roadmap" most creators never have.

It's designed for digital products like:

ebooks, lead magnets, reports, video courses, or multi-format offers.

Subject: A "pick for me" button for profitable product ideas?

Preview: This feature is a secret weapon when you're stuck.

Body:

Hey [Name],

Ever feel like you have too many ideas… and none of them feel like "the one"?

Smart Product Builder has a simple feature I think you'll love:

a "Pick For Me" niche selector.

It helps you uncover profitable directions you may not have considered — especially when you're stuck or want to expand into new angles.

Then, once you pick the direction, the system guides you through:

audience targeting → outcome clarity → product structure → assembly.

No more starting from scratch.

No more endless second-guessing.

Subject: This is NOT another chat prompt library

Preview: It's a guided product creation system built for results.

Body:

Hey [Name],

Quick heads up:

Smart Product Builder isn't "a bunch of prompts."

And it's not a generic chat interface.

It's a guided product creation system:

• A clear workflow you follow

• Short training modules that explain the process

• A built-in AI web app that turns decisions into structure

So instead of producing a bloated, generic product…

you build something focused, polished, and purposeful.

If you've tried the "just ask AI" approach and ended up overwhelmed, this is the upgrade.

Subject: How to create a product that feels premium (without overcomplicating it)

Preview: The final step most creators skip: assembly.

Body:

Hey [Name],

Most people can generate "content."

But a premium digital product is more than content.

It's assembled, organized, and presented intentionally.

One thing I like about Smart Product Builder is it doesn't stop at ideas or outlines.

It includes a Product Assembly module that shows you how to turn your structured material into a cohesive product experience — not a messy folder of files.

That's the difference between:

"something I made quickly"

and

"a product people happily buy and use."

Preview: Remove friction and finish your next product with confidence.

Body:

Hey [Name],

A lot of creators are stuck in a loop:

Planning.

Tweaking.

Researching.

Collecting tools.

But not shipping.

Smart Product Builder is built to remove the friction that keeps you stalled:

• It forces clarity early (who it's for, what outcome it creates)

• It generates a structured outline you can actually use

• It helps you save and reload your work so nothing gets lost

• It lets you download your generated assets for easy repurposing

If you want momentum (and a repeatable workflow you can reuse), here it is:

Subject: FAQ: "Will this work for my type of product?"

Preview: Yes — it's designed to stay flexible as tools evolve.

Body:

Hey [Name],

A common question is:

"Does this only work for one type of digital product?"

No — that's actually the point.

Smart Product Builder is built around structure and clarity, not a single format.

You can use it for ebooks, lead magnets, reports, video courses, or multi-format products.

And because it's workflow-driven (not tied to one AI trend), it stays useful even as AI tools evolve.

If you want a future-proof approach to creating products that sell, see the details here:

Body:

Hey [Name],

If you're the type who likes to "see inside" before committing, you'll appreciate this.

Smart Product Builder walks you through the modern product creation workflow…

and then the software is right there to execute the steps.

It's one seamless system:

learn the process → apply it immediately → generate your product structure and assets.

That's why it's so effective for beginners and marketers who want to move faster without guessing.

Hey [Name],

One last reminder before this slips off your radar:

The old way of creating products (guess → build → hope) is too slow now.

AI sped everything up… but it didn't replace the need for clarity.

Smart Product Builder gives you the missing piece:

a repeatable product creation workflow + guided software that turns a rough idea into a focused, polished product.

Subject Line: The Modern Way To Create Laser-Targeted Digital Products (Fast)

Body:

If you've ever tried to "create a digital product with AI," you've probably experienced the same weird problem most creators run into:

AI gives you unlimited output… but not a clear direction.

You can generate outlines, modules, scripts, and pages in seconds — and still end up with a bloated, generic product that feels confusing, unfinished, or impossible to sell.

That's exactly what Smart Product Builder was built to solve.

Instead of handing you another prompt library or a generic chat interface, Smart Product Builder combines two things most creators are missing:
1) a modern, repeatable product-creation workflow, and
2) a purpose-built AI web app that guides you through the decisions that matter.

Here's what that means in real life.

You start by getting clarity on the product you're creating: the niche, the target audience, the core problem, and the outcome your customer wants. From there, the software helps you generate a structured, multi-module product outline — not just a random list of topics, but a usable roadmap you can build from.

What I like most is how detailed the targeting can be. When you define your audience and desired outcome with more precision, the product becomes easier to position and easier to sell because it was built with the buyer in mind from the start.

Smart Product Builder also includes practical features that remove friction: save and load your work, download your generated assets, and even a "Pick For Me" niche selector when you're stuck for ideas.

And it's flexible. You can apply the workflow to ebooks, lead magnets, reports, video courses, or multi-format offers — without being boxed into one template or one trend.

If you want a cleaner path from "idea" to "finished product," Smart Product Builder is worth a look.

Subject Line: Stop Guessing What To Create: A Simple Workflow + AI App That Turns Ideas Into Products

Body:

The hardest part of creating a digital product isn't writing content.

It's deciding what to build in the first place.

Right now, creators are drowning in options:
new AI tools, new prompts, new tactics… and endless "ideas" that never turn into finished products.

The result is decision paralysis. You start, stop, revise, and second-guess — until weeks pass and nothing ships.

Smart Product Builder attacks that problem at the source.

It's not designed to impress you with output.
It's designed to guide you through the decisions that make a product focused, polished, and sellable.

Inside Smart Product Builder, you get short training modules that teach a modern product-creation workflow — the kind that works in today's AI-driven world. Then, you immediately apply that workflow inside a built-in AI web app that helps you move from rough idea → clear structure → assembled product.

The software supports key steps creators usually skip:
• Audience and outcome clarity (so you're not building for "everyone")
• AI-powered product outline generation (so you start with a roadmap, not a blank page)
• A "Pick For Me" niche selector (to uncover profitable angles you might not see)
• Save/load and downloadable assets (so your work is usable and easy to repurpose)

One of the biggest advantages is flexibility. You can use the process for ebooks, reports, lead magnets, video courses, or a multi-format product that combines written and video content.

If you've felt like AI should make product creation easier — but instead it's made you more overwhelmed — Smart Product Builder is the structured approach you've been looking for.

AI is everywhere… and that's the problem. More tools, more prompts, more options — and most creators end up stuck in decision paralysis.

Smart Product Builder fixes this with a modern product-creation workflow + a purpose-built AI web app that guides you from idea → structure → finished product assets. No generic chat interface. No guessing what to build. You define your niche, audience, and outcome, then generate a focused product roadmap you can actually use — and reuse again and again.

Bonus: features like "Pick For Me" niche ideas, save/load, and downloadable assets make it easy to repurpose content into multiple products, lead magnets, and offers.

If you've tried creating a digital product with AI and ended up with a bloated, generic mess… you're not alone.

The missing piece isn't "more content." It's structure.

Smart Product Builder gives you a repeatable workflow that creates clarity first, then a built-in AI app that turns your decisions into a clean, laser-targeted product outline (and assets) you can assemble into an ebook, report, lead magnet, video course, or multi-format offer.

You can save and reload your work, download what you generate, and repurpose it into blog posts, emails, and content that supports your funnel.

Create faster, stay focused, and finally ship something that feels premium.
