

SL: KARA! This email is just for you!

Hi Kara,

Your recent instagram reel about 'mindset first, action second' really hit home for me and the caption about setting wise financial goals showed me the actions I must take step by step.

Upon going through your Amazon link and your shop, I noticed that the reviews are not up to the standard I suppose you set for yourself and I have an intriguing idea that will help boost your sales and help you get more recognition in this industry.

Have you ever considered implementing compelling content that will drive your leads to take action into your business?

This is just a small piece of my strategy for you and I have bigger pieces up my sleeve for you.

this could be the key to enhancing your output to your audience.

But I can only advise this, it is up to you if you want to take this next step.

Does this sound like it is in your best interests? My contact details will be down below.

Best wishes,
Kalum.
