

Instructions for Poster Authors (Due Wednesday, June 29)

All accepted poster abstracts are scheduled to appear in ACM Digital Library as part of ACM-BCB 2022 proceedings. The authors of the accepted papers and posters are required to follow the following instructions for (1) completing an ACM copyright form, (2) submitting a camera-ready version of the poster abstract on EasyChair, and (3) completing a full conference registration. Note that you must complete the ACM copyright form in order to get the bibstrip for your camera-ready version.

1. ACM Copyright form:

All accepted papers and abstracts will need to complete an ACM copyright form. The FIRST CORRESPONDING author should have received a copyright form from acm@rightsreview.org. Please make sure that you and your authors set email SPAM settings to allow emails from rightsreview@acm.org. As rights management emails are sent from an automated system, there is a chance that emails sent will wind up in SPAM folders.

Upon completion of this form, you will receive an automatically-generated email with the rights and permission information (including the paper citation and DOI information) that should be added to your camera-ready version.

If you cannot find the copyright form in the authors' inboxes, please email Anna Ritz (aritz@reed.edu) with your EasyChair submission number, poster title, and the one author who should receive the form.

2. Camera-ready instructions:

All camera-ready submissions should conform to the ACM Conference Proceedings template (<http://www.acm.org/publications/proceedings-template>). Poster abstracts are limited to one page. The version should also contain the rights and permission information which is provided upon completing the ACM copyright form (see (1) above).

Upload the camera ready version as an update to the original submission on EasyChair. Navigate to your submission in EasyChair and click "Update submission" in the upper right corner. If you cannot update your submission, please email Lingling An (anling@arizona.edu) with your EasyChair submission number, poster title, and the camera-ready PDF.

3. Registration requirement:

Each accepted conference paper, highlight abstract, workshop paper, or poster must be accompanied by a full conference registration. Each registration covers the cost for the entire conference including main conference paper sessions, plenary sessions, workshops, tutorials, and posters. Note that one registration can cover up to two submissions. Additional submissions can be registered at a fixed rate.

Registration will be posted shortly on the ACM-BCB website - we will send another email when this is available.

We look forward to having your camera-ready abstracts by Wednesday, June 29th.
