

Resource Analysis

For many types of content, SME's and Instructional Designers will need to rely on additional resources. When you've decided on the content types you expect to deliver, it is a good idea to make sure that you have the resources required to deliver that content. Even if your organization has the resources required, make sure that they are available to meet the timelines that your course requires.

Content Type	Typical Resource(s)	Will I need this content type?	Do I have the resources? Can I get them?
E.g. Presentation Materials	E.g. SME E.g. Instructional Designer	Discuss needs, scope & alternatives among your team	Discuss resources, timelines and constraints among your team.
