

May 2024 update:

New information has been added, viewable at the bottom of this document.

This document reveals the outright lies and shit talking that 2aouri/2ouri/Tori does and has done on a daily basis. It's being written because she seems to be trying to paint herself into a blameless victim of her whole doxxing situation by attempting to retaliate against us by manipulating the community's image of us the same way Vile has.

A brief history surrounding the SURP x Vile situation and why this involves Tori at all

Starting October 25th 2022

To set the scene, this all occurred at a point in time where Sonic VRChat personalities like Nexustree3000 had “retired” from VRChat to focus more on real life matters. In the wake of this, a disgraced Megaman content creator calling himself Vile 3D (or Vile Vizla, as he's had problems with his usernames being stolen to fuck with him) decided to make a new Sonic world on VRChat in an attempt to unseat Nexus' world as the top Sonic VRChat world. It's not really relevant to the broader story here, but his intent was to “become the new Nexus” it seemed. Us, not really knowing very much about Vile other than the Megaman community drama he himself shared on his own VRChat worlds, got to know him a little bit, even pledging our assistance to him to smooth out some of the rough edges of his world. Mrs Clutch even temporarily provided the voice of Tails in the world. This all occurred in the “Station Square” area of Viles VRChat world. The key figures in this story are: ourselves, a friend whose identity is irrelevant to the story, some prominent members of Sonic Universe Role-Play (SURP for short) and a former friend/VRChat content creator named Jayson.

We overheard some members of Sonic Universe Role-Play planning to ambush and ridicule our former friend and a VRC content creator Jayson. They intended to record his reaction and post it online to mock him. Since he was our friend at the time we were inclined to intervene. The two of us and another friend tried to warn him but he wanted to see what they had to say to him. We took issue with their plan to mock him for his mental health struggles and argued against them. They didn't have anything to say back to Mr Clutch calling them out, so instead chose to hyperfixate on one line in Mrs Clutch's bio, specifically about how our discord server was lax on rules regarding rule34 artwork. This was somehow transferred from “lax rules” somehow into “pedophiles” despite the two of us very clearly pointing out how we actively avoid interactions with children. This type of falsehood would become a recurring theme for mentally unstable people to attack us over. For details on a similar issue with another person, see HERE. Since this took place in Vile’s World and he was in a sort of partnership with SURP, and they were rather unfairly treating somebody with obvious mental health struggles, we incorrectly assumed Vile would be disgusted with their behavior and would punish them accordingly, something that we attempt to point out to them. Instead, he seemed to believe their lies about us claiming ownership of the world, and about us being engaged in criminal activities. They conveniently neglected to mention their attempts to goad someone into killing themselves.

Vile installed people into our discord server to screenshot and make records of things in the server. He took issue with conversations we had about his personal beef with other Megaman content creators on VRChat, despite us not taking a stance one way or the other, and the only openly negative remarks about Vile weren't even made by us, though I guess he understood us to be responsible for their words and actions? Vile later joined himself, and while I still stand by everything I ever said, and I even attempted to reason with him before he lost his mind, feeling it was really necessary to point out that he doesn't engage in “virgin behavior” because he has a fiance, Vinity, that he lives with. Desperately needing people to know that despite appearances and the low likelihood that you’ve definitely had sex is absolutely textbook “virgin behavior” but we didn't actually say that about him. But, I digress.

His fiance, Vinity that he definitely lives with (It’s really important to him that we know that) decided to have his back and made some pretty insane statements about us in their own discord server. Claims like: “What’s stopping them from going further?” “They openly talk to minors about the sexualisation of children” and “they actively seek out children to interact with.” Obviously this was and is complete nonsense. As an aside, security measures have since been drastically improved since we only had one layer of nsfw protection in the server, the “age restriction” function built directly into discord. This doesn't actually stop somebody from lying about their age when they made their discord account. There are now 3 separate layers of security to make sure that no minors could ever have access to that kind of imagery, and those measures are frequently tested.

As a result of this disagreement, Vile removed Mrs Clutch's voice lines and credits from his Sonic World, also banning both of us from his discord server and directed the SURP community to not only do the same but to also stalk and harass us. Oddly, Vile refused to remove Mr Clutch's credits from the world for the longest time, and also refused to remove the credits for a friend of ours too. Vinity also saw fit to put together a bogus document about us telling a bunch of extremely silly lies (such a black man was being racist for using the n word) and she posted it in what was at the time the largest Sonic The Hedgehog VRChat discord server for dozens of minors to see. All completely uncensored with nothing held back. Our friends told us that we've never made them feel uncomfortable, but Vile and Vinity doing that absolutely did. Vile also attempted to have us removed from a video game project Nexus was working on, though unsuccessfully.

Vile later threatened me privately, saying I had to jump through several rather extreme and ridiculous hoops to get him to private the document. Instead I wrote him a letter detailing all of the areas in which I think he fucked up, as well as pointing out just how insane his response was when compared to the very minor issue of "some of your members were not very nice."

Following all of this, Vile, Vinity, SURP and the communities of all of them engaged in some seriously fucked up and abusive behavior.

They:

- Had friends of theirs investigate us in an attempt to do us real world harm, claiming to know criminals in both the USA and the UK who would assist them.
- Threatened to stuff us into wood chippers.
- Tried to torch our personal and professional relationships.
- Attempted to find our private information with the intent to share it directly with hackers and violent criminals.
- Threatened to report us to the authorities.
- Harassed an unrelated person because they believed them to be one of us.
- Found and publicly shared Mrs Clutch's "intimate" pictures.
- Sent legions of idiots to come and harass us daily for months.

Eventually, seeing no other option I chose to get in touch with the Megaman content creators that Vile was beefing with and advised them of everything that had happened. Fortunately one of them was so disgusted by Vile's behavior that they threatened to re-share an extremely damaging document that they had previously agreed to hide. This forced Vile to cease his hostilities, and eventually back away from the Sonic Community on VRChat. Out of respect for this content creator, I will not share what I know about the content of the document.

The way this all links to Tori is the fact that she had all of this explained to her in just as excruciating detail as this document and she informed me that she understood and even apologized for even suggesting we all "make up" and tolerate each other's presences. The core of Tori's issue with us was that we had supposedly "doxxed" her, despite the fact that the only person to actually go around sharing information regarding her was actually her herself. The people at SURP were themselves attempting to track us down in order to attempt to do very real harm to us in person. It's a form of poetic justice to say that if she thinks their behavior is acceptable enough to be willing to befriend them despite everything they did, then why not do the same to her? Sharing her information is something that we had considered, but ultimately we decided against it. This is all despite the fact that we NEVER actually directly SHARED any personal information regarding Tori, or anyone associated with her. To anyone other than Tori reading this: Consider this one fact. Any personal information regarding Tori: Who sent it to you? Was it us? Did we message it to you? No. It was Tori.

July 14th 2023

On this night was where the Tori issue started. We were hanging out on South Island like normal. When someone was trying to keep kick Beepboopthebot (the leader of SURP) for no reason. I have that person blocked. But after that, Tori started ignoring me the whole time to talk to her. I took issue with this and told Tori I was going to drop her for it. Tori seemed to not understand why I hate Beep and SURP so much. She was told the reasons why more than once. We told her each and every detail as to why I warned her if she started talking to people in SURP (especially the fucking leader), we can no longer associate with her any longer. Tori proceeded to say "If you're going to drop me, go ahead and drop me, it's going to happen anyway" This utter disrespect caused me to just unfriend, block her, and ban her from my discord and group.

Below you can find a quick list of some of her more egregious examples of misbehavior:

1. Desperate need to be in close with SURP yet talks shit on them
2. Chaser's typical backstabbing more, more
3. She's not even telling the whole truth (according to her, we are doxxing multiple surp members?)
4. Proof she never thought we were pedos in the first place
5. She even complimented my "illegal" art.
6. Her own r34 activity (since you all care deeply about fictional character ages and circumstances, Sonic is 15 and this is rape)
7. Questionable life choices, she let Shattered ERP with BlackSista100 and then cried about it to us ←- video of this incident attached 😊
8. More questionable life choices: It's very pathetic and cuck-like that she is working against us with people she had claimed to never want to interact with again
9. She attempted to scam Nexustree3000 to pay her and tried to fuck up his relationship with Fury
10. Talking shit on Nexus and Fury, also being jealous of her after not getting what she wanted
11. She tried to dox ME by asking the most obvious questions

12. Somehow we're the pussies but Tori... you have us blocked everywhere you can think of Somehow I'm the psychotic one, but you've been trying to get us removed from every space we share a mutual server... all over art that you yourself approve of ( I know it's a repeat pic but this is such a baffling point) And don't think we don't see you trying it with Nexus' server this time. You keep banging on about how our frontal lobes are underdeveloped while yours can barely function on a level beyond age 12 with your own childish behavior towards us.

Once again, somehow we're the pussies here, but the fact that this doc exists is BECAUSE you are incapable of opening up a dialogue and confronting me and my husband over this entire thing. You cannot even own up to the fact that you are a weak, lying, hypocritical, manipulative failure who simply cannot exist without someone to ride the coattails of. You latch onto people because above all else, what you care about is getting noticed, to grow your meager following. You've tried everything you can think of: selling lewd videos of yourself, drawing your OWN rule34 art, streaming, making youtube videos. But nothing works. Nobody gives a fuck still. You care so much about views and hits because to you, that's the only thing that should matter. To the extent that you'll even make fun of people over it. You express hatred for popular female creators on the internet because you are jealous. Because of your sick, low-self esteem riddled head you have to live vicariously through other people, but then who are you going to use for clout when you inevitably throw them away, attempt to tear them down and try to push them out of the community too because they won't fall for your bullshit any longer?

You have no idea how to pick your battles. You have made a really fucking stupid mistake when you decided to fuck with the very people who have their hands on everything that you said about them behind their backs. Just one example is how obsessed you've been with Cloudveil/Nyxaure/Nyruikko, frequently talking shit about her angrily for seemingly no other reason than "She gets attention and I don't." And you took a huge issue with your now ex having bought her expensive shit, because guys should only be buying you the expensive things, right? You'll even get so far as to make stuff up about her, like this random suggestion that she was interested in my husband, despite there being nothing to suggest that might be the case. Including sharing her name outside of a private channel. These small screenshots are just scratching the surface of what she really thinks of all of you.

You pretended to understand what we went through (although it's hard to say whether it was pretending or not bc you're either pretty dim or a good liar) and dared to ask me "Oh what did they do to you that was so bad?" when I told you I was dropping you for starting to talk to Beep that night. Well, now you fucking understand first hand now don't you? Now that the shit they tried to do to us actually happened to you.

You probably thought you were safe in doing all of this and thought I wouldn't clap back because my own closet isn't clean. I myself have said horrible, disgusting things about people, places and subgroups in this community, but unlike you, I own everything that I do and say. I don't have a need to hide.

You and I both know that I have no connection to anyone in this space and if I do, it's barely more than robotic. People only exist when I see them and they cease to exist when they are out of my sight. I have absolutely no one and nothing to lose. You really should have thought this through before doing all these things. But what more can we expect from such an empty-headed, literal retard in the sonic community who can't even keep her fake ass story straight and fell for the lies of a dude who used his fake Sonic alter to blame his cheating ways on?

You should have undeniable proof somewhere saved on your end that I hate every single person in this fucking shitty community except for a very small few I have nothing but immense love and respect for. Some of them I even consider brothers, sisters or even a son.

You are angry because you got pwned by a real bitch.

You are jealous because everyone you surround yourself with is successful.

You are deceitful because you make shit up about me to get what you want.

And now everyone knows who you really are as a person.

And go ahead and show everyone who I am as a person.

At least then, the truth would come out of your mouth for once.

5/6/2024 - Inclusion of ImYourCharlie in her hate campaign against me and my husband

Recently, through a trusted source, we've found one of her accomplices who happens to follow her on Twitter writing inflammatory statements about us with the markers in the Apotos world. This is clearly a renewed attempt to incite harassment against us. To be clear, our position is that if somebody is taking action on behalf of Tori, or is inspired by her then she is just as much to blame. It's really telling that while we've moved on with our lives and forgotten about a disgraced former friend, that this obsessed loser is still making us a permanent fixture in her mind. We don't think about you, we forget that you exist until you start spewing some nonsense.

ImYourCharlie wrote these things, along with Tori herself.

He also wrote this on 5/12/24

Responding to Tori's lies on Twitter and Reddit

👉 Let's go through this magical tale she has spun, piece by piece! 👉
We're going to ignore the various surface level insults.

- 👉 Once again, you doxxed yourself here.
- 👉 For the first time ever, you're right, you did break my trust.
- 👉 Tori, you and I are literally just two years apart. I'm nowhere near 40.
- 👉 My social skills are completely fine. How exactly are they corrupt? You never explain anything you claim lol.

- 👉 How exactly are we running from accountability here? How are we hiding? I really need you to explain this because I'm on VRChat all the time socializing with others, meanwhile you continue to hide behind blocks.
- 👉 It's difficult to "make amends" with someone who has you blocked. I'm not circumventing blocks for you to report my account if that's what you are planning.
- 👉 Hmm "treat people how you want to be treated" So, you want me to go around to people and falsely accuse you of being a pedophile? Because that is how you are treating me. Sage advice!

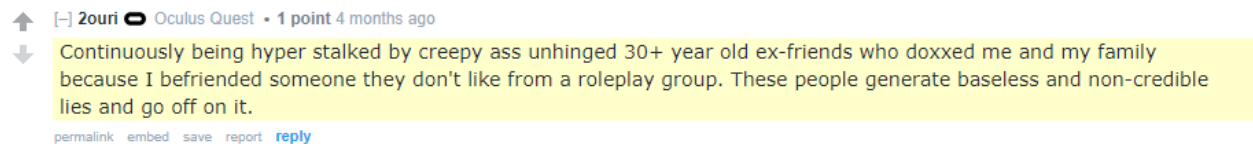

👓 It's hardly a whine when someone is literally accusing you of a crime you never committed for over two years now.

👓 lol you didn't close the curtains. You are right back on VRChat whining about me to anyone bored enough to listen.

👓 Well, I took this advice and stopped talking to you lol. Nobody wants to be friends with someone who keeps calling them a pedophile and sending false reports about them to the FBI.

👓 There's absolutely nothing "continuous" about us towards you at all. We forget about you a minute or two after we stop having to look at the lies you spew. As already proven, to dox somebody requires the specific sharing of information with the intent to harass. You freaking out and sending people your own shit on a site doesn't even come close. I'm starting to think you've actually started to believe your own bullshit. Our issue with you wasn't merely because you "befriended someone we don't like from a roleplay group" (How's that going, by the way? Did they get sick of your attention whoring, too?) It was because you were minimizing the actual doxing and harassment that we had coming our way. It's very funny and ironic that you'd say that we are the ones to make baseless and non-credible claims considering that's literally all you do. I challenge you to point to a single thing we've said that is not true.

↓ One of them made a fake LinkedIn account to connect with me, and another recently viewed my page from the U.K. and think they're targeted IRL for "a planned assassination" when there's nothing to back up from it. I'm no doctor, but I genuinely think these people suffer from Paranoia Personality Disorder.

 I've no idea where this even comes from. I do not and have not ever had a LinkedIn account. The reason being that it's a huge identity security risk. You sound like the kinda idiot who will hear a spooky noise in the night and scream out "CLUTCHES?!" You know full well (because we showed you) the credible and legitimate attempts to find us as well as the threats being made at us. Lying about things to make yourself feel better about your own fuck-ups is not a good look.

↓ As someone that got doxxed this year, it's the most frightening and creepiest thing that could ever happen to anyone. I hate anyone that says 'doxxing isn't considered illegal, because in anyone's eyes it could be considered attempted murder or anything of the sort. I do hope you're okay now!

permalink embed save parent report reply

 That's very funny, because this is the exact sort of shit you were saying about what happened to us. You're even contradicting yourself within the same fucking reddit thread! Do you completely lack any and all self awareness. Or are you legitimately this stupid?

 Do yourself a favor. Move the fuck on and try to find some meaning in your life that isn't obsessing over two people you claim to not care about anymore.
