Subject line: So what's in it for FabricShoppersUnites

Hey I noticed you on the other side of the internet.

Your business seems great and I'm glad I ran into it.

I wish that more people would stop to check out your store like me. Because it sure has some potential. Though crocheting is particularly my thing, it is others and I'm almost betting that I could use the same method I used on previous clients that made them successful on your business. Intern getting more people stopping by your business becoming frequently recurring customers.

So possibly in the short feature you could wake up with a business doing 3x or 5x more than what its making nowadays. Your business today has a good foundation and can hold you above the surface, keeping you stable for a while. But I believe we can drive your business thru the roof with amazing results in under a year tops.

We'll need to work hard but I believe using the same method I used on my previous clients can massively boost your business.

So maybe I could send you 10$ for a virtual zoom coffee toge
