Secrets To Decorating For Easter On A Budget

Easter comes at the end of Lent and serves as a time of great celebration, and regardless of how tightly you may be holding your purse strings, you don't have to make a large dent in your budget to find decorating for Easter creative and exciting.

You will be able to decorate beautifully by using your fertile imagination, everything from your kids' Easter gifts and baskets to your living room; all on a shoestring. Make this springtime holiday truly festive and special while staying frugal by allowing your ingenuity to take the reins this Easter.

Below are just a few ways to keep you on track to an affordably beautiful Easter:

- Take a look around the house for items from Easter's past: check the attic, the basement, the storage closets, and the garage. You may even want to take a peek into that dreaded "junk drawer" to see what treasures lie within. This sweep of the house will help you to defray any potential costs from having to trek to the store for crafts. You will probably find some items are already at your disposal which you can refresh, reuse, update or even restore.
- Visit your local secondhand or thrift stores: Making a trip to a secondhand store provides an opportunity to make decorations someone used last year into brand new ones to you and your family. Keep in mind what you want to create this Easter when you make your thrift store pilgrimage. You may stumble on someone's pastel pails or previously and gently used Easter baskets that you can spruce up with ribbons and grass. No one will be the wiser once you put your fine touch upon gently used items.
- Make a friendly trade: Talk to your friends and neighbors about what they have on hand and see about making a trade, making it possible for everyone to make fun updates for this year's Easter decorations. Maybe you can even work with a group and plan for this type of exchange so each year you can all have a fresh mix of new Easter supplies while spending very little. You can also meet other local Easter decorators online who want to live frugally while still decorating for Easter. Trade lightly used egg scatter, wreaths, Easter baskets, tablecloths, plastic eggs and other Easter treasures.
