

BETTER MATH - Privacy Policy

Better math - Privacy Policy

We collect minimal information that can be used to identify you by default. If you want to just browse, you don't need an account. If you want to create an account to participate in a post, we don't require you to give us your real name. We don't track your location. You can create multiple accounts, or ask us to delete your information.

Account information

You don't need an account to use Better Math. If you create a Better Math account, your account will have a username, which you provide. Your username is public, and it doesn't have to be related to your real name. You may need to provide a password, depending on whether you register using an email address or using Sign in with Apple.

Content you submit

We collect the content you submit to the app. This includes your posts and comments. When you submit content (including a post or comment), any visitors to and users of our app will be able to see that content, the username associated with the content, and the date and time you originally submitted the content.

Deleting Your Account

You can delete your Better Math account at any time. Please note, however, that the posts, and comments you submitted prior to deleting your account will still be visible to others. If you change your mind, you might not be able to recover it.

If you have any questions, please contact us via our contact form.