

ERIN O'HANLON

EXPERIENCED COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT COORDINATOR

Qualified for programming development, volunteer management and grant management. 25+ years of community leadership and academic experience. Exceptional network of high-level contacts in the Southern New Jersey area in community organizations and strong connections to the South Jersey area.

Strong and transformational leader with a talent for advocating for community engagement and service-learning. Passionate about creative placemaking and dedicated to listening to community voices.

Equally adept at strategic communication and planning, including grants management. History of quantifiable success in community initiatives, program development and advancement, and strategic content generation.

Successful record of designing and facilitating community programs, managing and supporting volunteers, working with students in leadership roles and engaging with the community. Understands and appreciates the importance of customer service in a community-funded organization.

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

- | | | |
|--|---|--|
| • Program Development | • Stakeholder Development | • Digital Communication Design |
| • Project Management | • Team Leadership | • Strategic communication, including marketing campaigns and social media management |
| • Grant Writing | • Relationship Building | • Airtable, WordPress |
| • Strategic Planning | • Content Generation and Narrative Building | |
| • Event Design and Management | • Fundraising communication and special events management | |
| • Youth Development and Engagement | • Microsoft Office, Publisher, Sway, Adobe Spark, various Google products | |
| • software: Blackboard, Omni CMS, Banner Financial | | |

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Stockton University, Galloway, NJ 9/2009 -- present

Comprehensive liberal arts university focused on student leadership and community engagement

Coordinator of Service-Learning, Stockton Center for Community Engagement and Service-Learning 7/2020 -- present

- Primary leadership of the Bonner Leaders Program, a nationally recognized student leadership cohort of 30 leaders, including recruiting and supervising Federal Work Study Program
- Develop independent programs and projects in collaboration with over 150 community partners, while maintaining an Airtable Database of local organizations and nonprofits
- Awarded $5,000 Racial Justice Community Fund Grant and $10,000 Community Engaged Learning Grant from Bonner Foundation, Oct/20
- previously Senior Program Coordinator, Office of Service-Learning, prior to merger with Stockton Center for Community Engagement (1/2015 - 7/2020)

Overview: Strategic goal and programming planning, and primary communication and coordination, in addition to content and narrative generation and student service deployment

Academic Coordination, Stories of Atlantic City, Communication Studies Program, ARHU

9/2018 -- present

- instrumental in development of Stories of Atlantic City, a collaborative project focused on telling restorative, untold stories about the city and its people
- focused on restorative narrative and strength-based approach to hyperlocal media making, guided by community engagement
- responsibilities includes special events management, coordination of student internships, outreach, grant applications and management and strategic planning with faculty

Overview: Founding member of digital media and creative placemaking organization focused on Atlantic City

9/2009 -- present

Adjunct Professor

Masters of Art in Instructional Technology, School of General Studies, and School of Arts and Humanities

- Classes include Adult Learning, Project Management, Learning in the 21st Century, Human Performance Improvement, Web Design, Multimedia Writing, Writing for the Media, Media, Culture and Society, Restorative Journalism, Principles of Journalism, Introduction to Public Relations, and Sustainability of Fashion

Activist in Residence

9/2013 -- 6/2014

Inaugural AIR, focused on development of primary prevention programs and community mobilization for proposed Women's and Gender Resource Center. Mobilized students around relevant issues.

- Created training for student activists on campus titled "Leading for Change," and implemented it to dozen of students
- Supported and supervised in the development of Service-Learning projects on campus focused on social justice issues, identified and implemented by student leaders

Overview: Increased awareness and activism on campus of women's rights issues, including how violence against women and vulnerable populations was handled on campus.

EDUCATION

Graduate Student in the LEAD Program, EdD. (anticipated completion Spring, 2024)

Stockton University, Galloway, NJ

2014-2015 Fellow, City Storytellers Fellowship

The Citizen's Campaign

- Bureau Chief of Atlantic City Bureau
- Develop and build capacity of citizen journalism initiatives through community engagement with AC residents

Masters of Arts in Instructional Technology

Stockton University, Galloway, NJ

- Completed Capstone Thesis on Computer Based Medical Case Study Instruction
- Graduate Assistantship Positions with University for six consecutive semesters

Bachelors of Arts in Literature and Language/Communications

Stockton University, Galloway, NJ

- Maintained 3.0 average while Assistant Editor of weekly, The Argo
- Studied Junior year abroad at University of Portsmouth, Portsmouth, UK

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Presenter, 48 Blocks AC, Atlantic City Arts Foundation, 2017 and 2018

Political Engagement Project/American Democracy Project Committee, Member

Creative New Jersey, member and past Presenter

Atlantic County Advisory Commission on Women, past Board Member

The Charity League of Atlantic County, Past President, Active Member

South Jersey Guild of Spinners and Handweavers, member

