____ Student Behavior Policy

CAC reserves the right to cancel or refuse the registration of a student in a class or workshop if participation by the student is deemed disruptive or interferes with the learning atmosphere and enjoyment of the class/workshop.

In order to provide students, visitors and staff with a supportive program environment, CAC will not tolerate any behavior that is disruptive to its programs.

Students are not to engage in any behavior that: Threatens the safety or comfort of any student, employee, faculty member or visitor, is a danger to themselves or any other student, employee, faculty member or visitor, or interferes with CAC's ability to conduct classes, workshops, open studios, special events, or other programs. CAC has the sole right to determine whether the behavior is in violation of its Code of Conduct. Some examples of unacceptable behavior are: being present on the premises or in class under the influence of drugs or alcohol, sexual harassment, inappropriate touching, verbal abuse, physical violence or threat of physical violence, disruptive behavior in class which compromises the instructor's authority, or interferes with other students' ability to participate effectively, and damaging or destroying the property of CAC, other students, staff, members or visitors.

Violation of the above may result in suspension or expulsion from Chesapeake Arts Center. Other penalties might include the forfeit of tuition and fees, financial responsibility for any damage caused, parental notification, and being sent home at the parent's expense.

____ Photograph Release

Photographs are routinely taken at all CAC classes, studios, workshops, performances, and events. These images are used for marketing purposes only, and may appear in CAC's print or digital communications or other marketing materials. All registered and attending students/patrons authorize CAC to use their image, related to the educational mission of the center, without compensation.
