SUMMARY: When transitioning careers or if your experience's relevance to data centers isn't clear (likely if you're a transitioning nuke), a VERY SHORT 2-3 line summary is helpful. It frames your narrative for the reader, explaining your interest and qualifications for the role.

WORK EXPERIENCE (your most impressive thing needs to be first, period – i.e., no vague summaries!)

Company Name Month Year – Month Year

Job Title City, ST (or just put Remote if remote)

- Core responsibility #1 / key results / high level summary.
- Core responsibility #2. As your most recent past experience, you can build out a few bullet points here.
 - Sub-bullets are for more detail if needed, like key performance stats or a portfolio / website link.
- Core responsibility #3. Pretend this is where they stop reading your resume. Whether Work or Education is your top section, the first thing they see must be your most impressive stuff, period. Hence, no summary.
- Core responsibility #4. Bullets #1 and #2 are for high-level descriptions of the company and/or your role.

Company Name (use “United States Navy” for the Navy) Month Year – Month Year

Job Title City, ST

- Core responsibility #1 / key results / high level summary.
- Core responsibility #2. As your most recent past experience, you can build out a few bullet points here.
- Core responsibility #3. Don't feel the need to write too much about jobs from more than 5 years in the past.

Prior Job Title | Month, Year – Present

- If you've been promoted / have held multiple titles at one company, put dates in italics next to each title like so.
- Core responsibility #2. As the jobs get older in your timeline, they're less relevant and need fewer bullet points.

Prior Job Title | Month, Year – Month, Year

- “Prior to my promotion to [current title], I...” core responsibility #1. Older job, less relevancy, 1 bullet is fine.
