

SL: If you don't do this right now then you'll find yourself on a declining path.

Hey Sahiba,

I just saw your recently completed projects on instagram and thought it was great, it made me check out your website.

Your timeline reflects an amazing job, showcasing stunning projects that would undoubtedly capture the attention of any millionaire, leaving them wanting more.

However,

I have noticed that your website doesn't provide visitors with persuading email to get their attention back to your services, as they are lazy and take their attention somewhere else.

We can provide the right guidance and make things easier for them by pointing them in the right direction.

Inorder to do that I have a great idea.

I have seen this absolutely crush in other industries, I think it will be really helpful.

I want to bring it to a brand that I know is going to make a positive impact on the lives of people.

I think you guys might be a good fit .

So I have given it below.

Steps to implement

1. Create a newsletter space for visitors.
2. Actively collect information, mainly their email.
3. Persuade them through email.
4. Link a landing page from email where they can book a free call/consulting.

It will not be long until most of your competitors are going to start using these new monetization methods. Would you like to watch them win or will you take action to stay ahead?

Thanks and regards,

Akshay
