

Demystifying Female Ejaculation: Wet & Slippery Joy

What You Always Wanted to Know but Didn't Know to Ask

Exciting Information about the Clitoris

The Clitoris is not just the little nub that peaks out of the top of the vulva. It is a system of tissue that goes deep into the vulva. The Clitoral nub has twice as many nerve endings as the head of the penis.

Is the Female Prostate and the G-Spot the same thing?

Just like there is a range of sizes for the male penis and male prostate. There is a range of sizes for the female clitoral tissue network and g-spot. Some women have little or no g-spot tissue. This makes it highly unlikely that they can have a g-spot orgasm.

The G-spot (named after Dr. Ernest Gräfenberg) is also called the Goddess Spot in Neo-Tantric and other sex positive communities. The Skenes Gland (which is the female prostate) is within the G-spot tissue which is still part of the Clitoral Network of Tissue.

What do the Scientists say about Female Ejaculation:

There are 2 types. One is truly ejaculatory or female prostate fluid. Milky whitish fluid that resembles milk. Filled with whitish fluid that resembles very diluted milk. According to a 2011 study, female ejaculate contains some of the same components as semen. This includes prostate specific antigen (PSA) and prostatic acid phosphatase.

The 2nd type is the Squirting Type. This has mostly urine with a small amount of the female ejaculate.

What do the Neo Tantrics and Porn say about Female Ejaculation:

Most sex positive communities from those that practice sacred Eros techniques like neo-Tantra to those that usually don't like most Porn, believe that squirting and g-spot orgasms are sexy, desirable, and a sign of sexual vibrancy.

Each would encourage practice in doing it more often. If you're worried about a mess? Use a towel, or waterproof pads under your lovemaking.

Do you need to have a G-Spot or Vaginal Orgasm to Ejaculate?

Female ejaculate and-or Squirting happen during orgasm. It is believed that stimulating the G-spot helps with this.

What is the range of Female Ejaculation:

If you have a vulva and you orgasm you probably already have ejaculated or even squirted. If you notice that after some orgasms you are particularly wet, this has probably happened to you.
