

History is a Journey: The New Deal

You may complete this assignment to replace a homework assignment of 20 points or less.

1. Inside the Phillips Park Zoo entrance in Aurora, there is a statue of a person digging.

Use information on the marker or the Internet to answer the following:

2. What is the name of the sculpture?

3. What is the name of the New Deal program that the person in the sculpture is working for?

4. What was the purpose of that New Deal program? Give a short description of it.

5. What year did this work begin?

6. Why is the person digging? What construction project was he (and others) trying to accomplish?

7. What remarkable discovery did they make while they were digging?

(Inside the Visitors Center next to the sculpture is even more information about the sculpture and what was found. In addition, there are some great artifacts and exhibits from WWII.)

8. Take a selfie in front of the sculpture. Email it Mr. Thomas at mthomas@mchs.net

9. Turn in this completed sheet either in person or via email to Mr. Thomas at mthomas@mchs.net . If you email, be sure you also email your selfie.
