Mid-19th Century Political Crisis

Disputes over slavery in the territories first erode, then destroy what had become America's second two-party system. The erosion began in the 1840s as various factions opposed to the post-Jackson Democratic political coalition begin to form.

Liberty Party

- 1. Run abolitionist candidate James Birney, for president in 1844.
- 2. Won only 2% of the vote but drew votes from the Whigs, especially in New York.

Whigs

Split over slavery into:

- 1. Southern, "Cotton" Whigs who eventually drifted into the Democratic Party.
- Northern, "Conscience" Whigs who moved to new parties, i.e. Free Soil and, later, into the Republican Party.

Republican Party

- 1. Formed in 1854 when a coalition of Independent Democrats, Free Soilers, and Conscience Whigs united in opposition to the Kansas-Nebraska Bill.
- 2. Stressed free labor and opposed the extension of slavery in the territories ("Free Soil, Free Labor, Free Men!").
- 3. Moderates, like Abraham Lincoln, could, therefore, oppose slavery on "moral" grounds as wrong, while admitting that slavery had a "right" to

Free Soil Party

- 1. Not abolitionist but opposed to expansion of slavery in the territories.
- 2. Won 10% of the popular vote with Martin Van Buren as their candidate in 1848.
- 3. Lost 50% of their support in 1852 when their candidate repudiated the Compromise of 1850

American Party

- 1. Popularly known as the "Know Nothing" Party.
- 2. Nativist party based on opposition to immigration and on temperance.
- 3. Run Millard Fillmore in 1856 and win 21% of the popular vote.
- 4. Absorbed into the Republican Party after 1856.

- exist where the Constitution originally allowed it to exist.
- 4. John C. Fremont was the first Republican presidential candidate in the election of 1856.

The Election of 1860

Democrats

1. Split at its 1860 Convention in Charleston, South Carolina when a platform defending slavery was defeated and Deep South delegates walked out.

- 2. At a splinter convention held at Baltimore, Maryland, Stephen Douglas of Illinois was nominated as presidential candidate on a platform opposing any Congressional interference with slavery...
- 3. Southern delegates met and nominated John Breckenridge of Kentucky as a candidate on a pro-slavery platform.

Republicans

- 1. The Republicans, by this time a overtly sectional and decidedly opposed to slavery draw in most northerners with a platform favoring a homestead act, a protective tariff, and transportation improvements.
- 2. The platform opposed the extension of slavery but defended the right of states to control their own "domestic institutions."
- 3. Abraham Lincoln is nominated presidential candidate on the third ballot.

Politics of the Gilded Age

Republicans & Democrats

- 1. Party differences blur during this period with loyalties determined by region, religious, and ethnic differences.
- 2. Voter turnout for presidential elections averaged over 78 percent of eligible voters; 60 to 80 percent in non-presidential years.
- 3. Both parties were pro-business.
- 4. Both parties were opposed to any type of economic radicalism or reform.
- 5. Both parties advocated a "sound currency" and supported the status quo in the existing financial system.
- 6. Federal government and, to some extent, state governments tended to do very little.
- 7. Republicans dominate the Senate; Democrats dominate the House of Representatives.
- 8. Republican Party splinter groups during this period: Stalwarts, Halfbreeds, Mugwumps.

Populist Party

- 1. Formed in 1891 by remnants of the Farmers' Alliances.
- 2. Big government party with a healthy list of demands that included:
 - o free coinage of silver,
 - o government ownership of the railroads, telegraphs, and telephone lines,
 - graduated income tax,

- o direct election of U. S. senators,
- o the use of initiative, referendum, and recall
- 3. The party eventually fades because farmers' situation improved in the late 1890s and because their political agenda was assumed by the major parties.

Progressive Era Politics

- 1. Spanned the period 1900-1920 and the presidencies of three "Progressive" Presidents: Theodore Roosevelt (Republican), William Howard Taft (Republican), and Woodrow Wilson (Democrat).
- 2. Believed that the laissez-faire system was obsolete, yet supported capitalism.
- 3. Believed in the idea of progress and that reformed institutions would replace corrupt power.
- 4. Applied the principles of science and efficiency to all economic, social, and political instituting.
- 5. Viewed government as a key player in creating an orderly, stable, and improved society.
- 6. Believed that government had the power to combat special interests and work for the good of the community, state, or nation.
- 7. Political parties were singled out as corrupt, undemocratic, outmoded, and inefficient.
- 8. Power of corrupt government could be diminished by increasing the power of the people and by putting more power in the hands of non-elective, nonpartisan, professional officials.
- 9. The progressives eventually co-opt many of the Populist demands such as referendum, initiative, direct election of Senators, etc. Some of these are incorporated in the "Progressive" Amendments to the U. S. Constitution: 16th, 17th, 18th, and 19th Amendments.

The Republican Era

- 1. From 1921 to 1933 both the presidency and congress were dominated by Republicans (Presidents Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover).
- 2. The position of the government was decidedly pro-business.
- 3. Though conservative, the government experimented with new approaches to public policy and was an active agent of economic change to respond to an American culture increasingly urban, industrial, and consumer-oriented.
- 4. Conflicts surfaced regarding immigration restriction, Prohibition, and race relations.
- 5. Generally, this period was a transitional one in which consumption and leisure were replacing older "traditional" American values of self-denial and the work ethic.

The Political Legacy of the New Deal

1. Created a Democratic party coalition that would dominate American politics for many years (1933-1052).

- 2. Included ethnic groups, city dwellers, organized labor, blacks, as well as a broad section of the middle class.
- Awakened voter interest in economic matters and increased expectations and acceptance of government involvement in American life.
- 4. The New Deal coalition made the federal government a protector of interest groups and a mediator of the competition among them.
- 5. "Activists" role for government in regulating American business to protect it from the excesses and problems of the past.
- 6. Fair Deal of the post-war Truman administration continued the trend in governmental involvement: i.e. advocated expanding Social Security benefits, increasing the minimum wage, a full employment program, slum clearance, public housing, and government sponsorship of scientific research.
- 7. In 1948, the "liberal" or Democratic coalition split into two branches:

States' Rights

- 1. Southern conservative Democrats known as "Dixiecrats."
- 2. Opposed the civil rights plank in the Democratic platform.
- 3. Nominated South Carolina Governor Strom Thurmond for President.

Progressive Party

- 1. "Liberal" Democrats who favored gradual socialism, the abolition of racial segregation, and a conciliatory attitude toward Russia.
- 2. Nominated Henry A. Wallace for president.
