

Possibly oldest deer jaw in North America found in Ellensburg November 8, 2018 Washington Daily Record News

... After spending roughly 4.9 million years in Ellensburg, the jaw bone of deer is making its way to the collection at the Burke Museum ... “We think it might be the oldest deer jaw in North America,” said Meaghan Wetherell, a paleontologist and lecturer at Central Washington University...