Great Escape Publishing's Travel Writer's Program

If the idea of earning money while exploring the world has long captivated your imagination, the Travel Writer's Program offered by Great Escape Publishing might be the ideal opportunity for you. While travel writing can be a fiercely competitive field, Great Escape emphasizes that success is attainable.

Consider the inspiring journey of one of their students, Colleen Cowles. By applying the knowledge gained from the Travel Writer's Program, she not only documented her travels but also managed to secure a remarkable nine-day Alaskan cruise, valued at $10,000, entirely complimentary. Her ability to leverage her writing skills from the program led to this incredible opportunity.

Knowadays: Becoming A Freelance Writer

The "Becoming A Freelance Writer" course may be relatively new in the field, but it offers comprehensive training led by seasoned freelance experts, making it an excellent choice for beginners.

This course comprises eight modules, covering the following areas:

- Introduction to the course
- Understanding content writing
- Preparing for writing projects
- Crafting blog posts and articles
- Harnessing the power of SEO
- Analyzing an article case study
- Building your freelance writing business
- A final assignment to test your skills

Knowadays provides one-on-one tutor support, assesses a final assignment, and grants access to valuable resources, checklists, and templates to aid learners in their journey. Additionally, successful graduates have the opportunity to secure freelance writing assignments for the Knowadays blog.

As an enticing offer, prospective learners can opt for a seven-day free trial to experience "Becoming A Freelance Writer." For lifetime access to the course, the fee is $599.

Peak Freelance: Freelance Writing Essentials

The Freelance Writing Essentials course is meticulously crafted to equip budding freelancers with the essential knowledge needed to establish a thriving freelance writing venture.

Developed by seasoned writers Michael Keenan and Elise Dopson, this course is structured into six video-based modules, each focusing on key aspects:

- Defining freelance writing and dispelling misconceptions
- Effective self-marketing strategies
- Navigating the legal aspects of freelancing
- Mastering the art of content creation
- Techniques for client acquisition
- Streamlining workflow and project management

While it doesn't delve deeply into the craft of writing itself, the Freelance Writing Essentials course serves as a valuable resource for newcomers seeking a comprehensive understanding of the freelance writing industry.

For a one-time fee of $99, learners gain lifetime access to the course, which also includes downloadable resources, checklists, and templates. Upon course completion, students have the option to become Peak Freelance members, enabling them to further refine their skills and knowledge.

Filthy Rich Writer: Comprehensive Copywriting Academy

The Comprehensive Copywriting Academy, founded by Nicki Krawczyk of Filthy Rich Writer, is thoughtfully designed for aspiring freelancers aiming to specialize in the field of copywriting.

Prospective students can gain insights into the course by watching a free training video, which not only offers guidance on securing freelance copywriting projects but also provides a sneak peek into the offerings of the Comprehensive Copywriting Academy.

The course itself is structured into six modules, offering comprehensive coverage of the following areas:

- Mastering the fundamentals of copywriting
- Elevating your copywriting proficiency
- Understanding the nuances of copywriting projects
- Exploring digital versus print copywriting
- Strategies for expanding your freelance copywriting business

For a one-time fee of $697 or the option of three convenient monthly payments of $257, students receive lifetime access to the Comprehensive Copywriting Academy. In addition to the course content, this price includes:

- Access to online support

- Regular coaching calls with a designated mentor
- Exclusive participation in seminars and workshops, enhancing the overall learning experience.

Write Your Way to Your First $1k

"Write Your Way to Your First $1k," also known as "Write to $1k," is a freelance writing course meticulously crafted by the professional writer, Elna Cain. This course is tailored to assist aspiring freelance writers in swiftly generating income, even if they possess no prior experience in freelancing or writing.

"Write to $1k" comprises 54 comprehensive lessons distributed across seven modules, which encompass the following key areas:

- Gaining insight into freelance writing expectations
- Crafting your unique brand identity
- Building a compelling portfolio
- Effective client acquisition strategies
- Mastering the art of pitching
- Writing for online businesses
- Sustainable business maintenance practices

Learners can acquire lifetime access to this course for a fee of $195 or opt for the flexibility of three monthly payments of $75. This price also includes valuable supplementary resources such as cheat sheets, pitch and email templates, access to a private Facebook group, and inspiring success stories from previous course participants.

Make a Living Writing: Freelance Writers Den

The Freelance Writers Den deviates from the conventional writing course format, offering instead a comprehensive reservoir of educational materials, resources, and guidance for freelance writers at all skill levels.

Conceived by Carol Tice, the founder of Make a Living Writing, the Freelance Writers Den grants its members entry to a diverse array of short courses, referred to as bootcamps. These bootcamps encompass an extensive range of topics, spanning the art of persuasive writing to the intricacies of establishing a successful freelance website.

Membership to the Freelance Writers Den also entitles individuals to the following benefits:

- Access to an extensive library of 300+ hours of video-based training
- Exclusive participation in community forums
- Personalized reviews for websites, pitches, and professional bios
- Regular podcasts delving into the realm of freelance writing
- Monthly interactive Q&A sessions featuring expert freelancers

Access to the Freelance Writers Den is attainable through a monthly membership fee of $40 or an annual fee of $400.

While the Freelance Writers Den is presently not open to new members, you have the option to join a waiting list to receive notifications when slots become available. Additionally, signing up for the waiting list grants you complimentary access to Carol's ebook, "The Recession-Proof Freelancer."
