Info/Details about the concept/plan/vision

This project is a collaborative effort between Julie Harland (organizer, singer), Ellen Greenberg (guitarist extraordinaire, singer), and John Harland (bass player & super supportive husband). Sing-alongs are NOT performances. Our goal is to create an environment similar to singing fun, familiar songs in a circle around a campfire! All voices are welcome—you don't even have to sing! No try-outs! No practices or rehearsals! Link to Lyrics provided! You can read them on your phone or iPad or computer or print them out. It's a themed party (singing together) with shmoozing before we begin singing, half-way through, and after we end. We invite participants to contribute something to share: snacks, drinks, paper goods, etc.

In college, Julie spent many nights typing up lyrics and writing guitar chords above the lyrics of songs instead of studying. She still has that notebook. Lyrics to most songs are now online, so she began compiling lyrics once we decided to do a sing-along on this google doc. At each sing-along, we create a tentative list of mostly well-known songs. We add new songs to the rep when we have time. This endeavor is a work-in-progress! Click if you'd like to suggest songs. Sing-alongs are at the Harland home. We have a large dance floor where everyone can sit around in chairs in a big circle.
