Two recent events have caused a host of undercover workers on the Conservative side to blow their cover – Charlie Kirk's death and MAGA going to the Tennessee HBCU. Because of the secret agreements they have behind closed doors, they were forced to show their allegiance during these events, but in doing so they blew their covers.

I did a project not too long ago that exposed the whole anti-Black agenda, and within it was a part about how Turning Point USA had gotten content creators and fake bot accounts to push their pro-Republican and anti-Black propaganda for them. When you get time you should go through that section because you can really see how it all connects to this. See the section [How The Internet Is Used.]

Important Background Info

Americans are programmed to believe they have to choose one of the two sides they are presented with in elections. Based on the information given through the media, Liberals/the Left are synonymous with the Democrats; and Conservatives/the Right, the Republicans. The billionaires at the top who have decided which issues each side, Republicans and Democrats, will stand for (claim to stand for) have divvied things up in such a way that on the Democrat side is the homosexual agenda, the transgender agenda, abortion, illegal immigration, disarmament, police “reform,” anti-God, etc. So, if you’re for the Democrats, you’re for those things even if you don’t support them personally. The Republican side opposes those things, as any person with sense would. They stand for the opposite, but with one catch, they’ve added anti-Blackness to this side. So, if you don’t want the things on the Democrat side, you must support, or even be, anti-Black. This is what the people at the top have set up.

It’s been so obvious for many years, at least to me, that a lot of these Youtubers have agreed to promote certain agendas in exchange for something that has been offered in secret. And if you’ve been on Youtube regularly for the past decade or so you have probably run into Black people who do nothing but bash Black people, just like the Blacks from Turning Point USA, Candace Owens and Brandon Tatum, for example.

She admitted it. And all of that anti-Blackness came out of her when she was with Turning Point USA.

“The flip-flop for Candace seemed to come along sometime in 2017; she was hired by Turning Point USA in November of that year to be their director of ‘urban engagement,’ which is code for ‘we need somebody dark to talk to these darkies.’ In 2019, she famously stood on the CPAC stage and denied the existence of racism.”

Source: Candace Owens is attempting to rebrand herself, and Black people shouldn't fall for it

<https://www.yahoo.com/news/candace-owens-attempting-rebrand-herself-153553601.html>

Turning Point USA has a set of beliefs akin to religious doctrine that their members may or may not believe personally but must uphold and teach at all times. The people they recruit, like the sellout Black Conservative Youtubers, are indoctrinated with these teachings and must uphold them. The belief that there is no systemic racism is one of these teachings. The problem is that because it's false, they have to lie and use all manner of trickery to make it seem true. FYI: This is also true for your politicians and the Billionaires who select them and fund their campaigns.

When you look at how the powers-that-be have re-written Black history (one example, 1970 - 2010 doesn't exist anymore), and you consider the purpose of the anti-Black brain washing coming from the media, Youtube, Facebook, and fake profiles; you look at how all media carefully selects each Black person who will appear on TV to achieve the desired messaging (from BLM members to CNN hosts); then look at the Turning Point USA doctrine you'll see that it's all a part of the same plot. And one overall goal of this plot, the goal of the people who designed it, is to make all the things that happened to Black America, except for slavery (which "wasn't that bad" and "happened to everyone"), seem to be Black America's fault.

Candace Owens got her start at Turning Point USA. They later "terminated her" and she went to PragerU while also working on her organization called Blexit. A little later, Blexit was magically under the control of Turning Point USA.

"At his first public event since being diagnosed with Covid-19, President Donald Trump spoke to hundreds of supporters on the South Lawn of the White House, giving a speech meant to honor law enforcement officials at a time when Black Lives Matter activists are calling to defund the police. The crowd was primarily made up of Black and brown people invited by Blexit, an organization that seeks to move Black voters away from the Democratic Party, and Trump used their presence to both salute their politics and attack his Democratic rivals. ... Held near the White House on the National Mall, the rally featured speeches from Owens, Tatum, and Black conservative talk radio host Larry Elder about how oppression isn't real, how Black people must take accountability for their actions, and how

Debunking The Biggest Lies Told About Charlie Kirk

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=N14ywRyTWVI>

Nothing says “not racist” like going around recruiting Blacks to be soldiers in your anti-Black army. And they are even going to poor Blacks and offering them whatever it is they’re offering them to be sellout anti-Black Conservatives. That’s some sick crap. And what’s even sicker is that they’re going to be taught to talk down on those same poor Blacks, and fight for the elimination of programs that they use to barely stay alive in the ghetto/concentration camps/opportunity deserts. How sick is that?

But what’s crazy is that these younger Blacks probably do believe the TPUSA brainwashing because they grew up having never been taught real Black history. Like I said, for example, “somehow” 1970 - 2010 doesn’t exist.

“In attendance were some of the hundreds of young black conservatives who came to Washington this past week as a show to liberal America that African Americans can be conservative and support Trump—that the conservative movement is not just for old white men. ... These young people, including Maxwell, had traveled to the capital for the second annual Black Leadership Summit, put on by Turning Point USA, a national conservative, often Trump-aligned campus group. More than 400 people from across the country attended, a Turning Point representative said. And the three-day summit featured 17 speakers, including YouTube stars, pastors, a Breitbart News editor—and an address from the president himself. Speakers pushed a ‘pull yourself up by the bootstraps’ narrative, and panels touched on conservative values like free markets, gun rights and the Bible. Attendees were encouraged to organize as conservatives and go back to their communities as leaders to help change the norm for black voters. ‘This is the herculean effort of the century,’ Charlie Kirk, Turning Point’s 25-year-old founder and executive director, said in an interview. ‘How can you get black America to think differently ideologically?’ ... Kirk said the Black Leadership Summit was the brainchild of Candace Owens—Turning Point’s former director of communications. Owens has become a popular, and controversial, figure in her own right, advocating for a ‘Blexit,’ or exit by black Americans from the Democratic Party. ... (Turning Point says it paid for lodging for all attendees between the ages of 15 and 28, and gave scholarship money to more than a quarter of the participants to be able to attend; the price of admission was $10.) ... The men said they support Trump because they think of him as anti-establishment, and that the establishment has repeatedly failed black America. They said they reject what they believe is a ‘victim mentality’ in the black community and proudly defy the Democratic Party, which they believe takes black America for granted. Thomas said he does not believe systemic racism exists in America. But he does believe bias exists.”

FYI: If Kirk did say that the Black Leadership Summit was the brainchild of Candace Owens it’s most likely a lie. They’ve stated a similar lie before.

This is out of context so we don't know what was stated prior. And that is the early Charlie Kirk, before he went further to the right. And he was probably just saying it/playing the role he was hired to play at that time.

“Since mid-October, Charlie Kirk’s Culture War college tour has been increasingly haunted by the Groyper and nicker Groyper Q&A trolls. These offline trolls use the Q&A-sessions that are part of the Culture War show format to frame Charlie Kirk as a fake, 'anti-white' conservative. A new chapter in the alt-right's cultural war re-emerges in full force.”

“What was later dubbed ‘The Groyper War’ began in the fall of 2019, when Fuentes launched a social media campaign targeting Turning Point USA's ‘Culture War’ college tour, led by Charlie Kirk. Enraged by the firing of a Fuentes ally as well as other political conflicts, Groypers disrupted college events by asking provocative questions on immigration, Israel, and LGBT rights, in an attempt to challenge mainstream conservative figures like Kirk, Donald Trump Jr., and Ben Shapiro, whom they labeled ‘Conservative Inc.’”

And then he went further to the right, something that was noticed and commented on by many people after it happened. “Charlie Kirk as we know has become a white supremacist and that's a huge victory ... but he remains a ... he remains a Jew lover. He remains a ... Jew lover and that ... I don't use language like that you know. But he is an Israel shill. Hughley, Ice Cube, and others believe "They're fighting against the Republicans so they're on our side." Nope. You're being tricked. Both sides are controlled.

Note: Just because someone came out and argued against the people protecting Charlie Kirk doesn't mean they are your friend, especially if they're a Democrat. MAGA Going To The Tennessee HBCU

Look at the signs! Does that look like a couple of people who are coming to debate or talk?

So, do you see how the System works? And there are other people planted on social media to push other agendas. Most of the so-called manosphere/red-pill community is another set of workers (not saying there's not a lot of truth in what's said). They actually exposed themselves a while ago with the Just Pearly Things incident where she invited Nick Fuentes on her show and they ended up saying something "anti-Semitic," then all of a sudden all the undercover workers attacked her and lied on her about being anti-Black, hiding the real reason for the attack. It was a similar output of content you saw above. I was following it and creating a project on it but I ended up leaving it alone. So basically ... social media is fake. It's just the younger sibling of the mainstream media, especially now with the addition of celebrities and former mainstream media personalities. But it's actually worse because of its ability to portray a consensus by fake comments and engagement.

Another situation that exposed secret workers was the ICE raids, but this time they were used to convince Black people that they were next to be deported so they should start fighting against ICE now. Which really means they should protect illegal immigration, which is helping Democrats and the Left do their job given to them by people like George Soros who hired them/got them elected. To see the workers who were used on this one see this.

FYI: Because of the way Youtube is set up these traitors only have to keep producing videos, and over time things will return to normal, like the exposure never happened. For this reason, other measures need to be taken in addition to negative feedback, "hate" mail, etc. I'm not going to say what should be done because I base it on what they deserve. All I can say is that keeping it online is not working, and will not work.

In a project I'm working on exposing Tariq Nasheed and FBA, a girl gave a couple of options for dealing with such people. I'll just quote that part of the project, what she said and what I commented, here.

“This is why we need to have a standard in the Black community period. When anyone comes into the Black community and grifts, you get rid of that muthaf----. You shut him out and you choke him out.” Thank you! It will probably be a Black woman who finally lays hands on these scammers because most Black men are either indifferent or jocking them like some groupies. There also needs to be some in-person opposition directed at the radio shows, podcasts, and content creators who showcase these informants (because the social media companies will protect them). And this needs to be filmed. There needs to be on-the-ground reporting, along with strong text, email, and online sharing (because there will be censorship). And donation pages need to be made to post bail and obtain council for the people who take physical action (don't donate too much money, base it on the charges ... probably from 5-60k). And these campaigns need to be spread through text, email and online. If you see any of these people in public go Live and give the location. If you know, 100% for a fact, where any of these people live, post the information online. And all of this goes for the female traitors too.

“This is what you do when someone comes into the Black community, steals from the Black community and sits there and causes [?] between Africans and Black Americans, and derails the reparations movement; you pull that muthaf*cka up, you pin him on the wall, and yall keep stomping on his f*ckin neck. You use him as an example that anyone that the F.B.I. and the government uses as an agent again this is how agents get treated. That's how you do it.” Finally! I've been saying something very similar for years! I've wanted to literally hurt these people for years! And for years I looked around and listened and didn't get not one indication that other Black men were feeling the same. Is something wrong with me or is something wrong with yall? How can you learn about a traitor, an informant, robbing your people and not feel a fire instead of you??? Something is seriously wrong.

Anyone who has a problem with this ... worry about your own people first, and then you need to talk to Turning Point USA, its donors and Youtube. How about we discuss Turning Point USA's Professor Watchlist (see this and this)?
