

Privacy Policy

Last Updated: January 16, 2025

Siar Games ("we," "our," or "us") is committed to protecting your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains how your data is handled when you use our mobile game, "Who Let The Bugs Out," available on the Google Play Store.

1. Information We Collect

At present, we do not collect, store, or share any personal or non-personal information from users of "Who Let The Bugs Out." All gameplay data remains on your device and is not transmitted to us or any third-party servers.

2. Future Features

In the future, we may introduce features such as:

- Achievements and Leaderboards: These may require integration with Google Play Services, which could involve the collection of data necessary for these features (e.g., your Google account username and achievements data).
- In-App Purchases: These may involve payment processing through Google Play's billing system. We do not directly handle payment details.
- Advertisements: If ads are added, they may involve third-party ad networks. We will update this policy to describe how data related to ads is managed.

When any of these features are implemented, we will update this Privacy Policy to clearly explain the data collected, its purpose, and how it is managed.

3. Third-Party Services

Currently, "Who Let The Bugs Out" does not use any third-party services. If this changes in the future, we will list all third-party services used, along with links to their respective privacy policies.

4. Your Data Rights

Since no data is collected at this time, there are no data rights to exercise. If future features involve data collection, we will provide details on how you can access, update, or delete your data, as well as contact us with concerns.

5. Data Security

We are committed to ensuring the security of your data. If and when data collection begins, appropriate technical and organizational measures will be implemented to protect your information.

6. Children's Privacy

"Who Let The Bugs Out" is not intended for children under the age of 13. If we discover that we have inadvertently collected data from children under 13, we will take steps to delete such data promptly.

7. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices or for other operational, legal, or regulatory reasons. We will notify you of significant changes by updating the "Last Updated" date at the top of this page.

8. Contact Us

If you have any questions or concerns about this Privacy Policy or our practices, you can contact us at:
