

Directions:

Put a slash between the complete subject & the complete predicate by finding the verb & putting a slash before it. Hint: if there is an adverb before the verb, put the slash before the adverb.

Digital Directions for How to do this Online

Do these 3 things: (1) for the complete subject, change the font color to red (2) for the complete predicate, change the font color to blue, and (3) underline the verb phrase.

This will show that you know the complete subject from the complete predicate and that you know what the verb is.

1. Tennis is a great personal sport.
2. The players must learn how to score.
3. Two or four people can play the game.
4. A special court is necessary to play tennis.