
Handout for after exam

Game theory

You're done with your first exam for this class. Congratulations! I'm going to grade the exams and give them back to you at the end of our next class along with an update on your overall grade. Please refrain from emailing me to ask me how you did on the exam or how you're doing overall because you'll know the answer to those questions soon enough. Hopefully you're doing great. You should be doing great if you've been working hard on your homeworks and if you've been actively engaged during class. If you performed poorly on the exam, then please come back to class with a renewed energy to work harder on homeworks and to be more engaged during class. I want you to do well in this course, and I know you can do well if you're willing to dedicate some of your scarce resources like your time and energy to our class. Remember that we'll have another midterm exam in class before spring break and then we'll have our final exam during its scheduled date and time, so your final grade for this class hasn't been fully determined yet. See you next time when we'll be moving right along to our next topics.

Handout for after exam

Game theory

You're done with your first exam for this class. Congratulations! I'm going to grade the exams and give them back to you at the end of our next class along with an update on your overall grade. Please refrain from emailing me to ask me how you did on the exam or how you're doing overall because you'll know the answer to those questions soon enough. Hopefully you're doing great. You should be doing great if you've been working hard on your homeworks and if you've been actively engaged during class. If you performed poorly on the exam, then please come back to class with a renewed energy to work harder on homeworks and to be more engaged during class. I want you to do well in this course, and I know you can do well if you're willing to dedicate some of your scarce resources like your time and energy to our class. Remember that we'll have another midterm exam in class before spring break and then we'll have our final exam during its scheduled date and time, so your final grade for this class hasn't been fully determined yet. See you next time when we'll be moving right along to our next topics.
