

LCDR Chandler Osborn

Location - West-N: R30, C18

Lt. Comdr. Chandler Osborn of the U. S. N. R., returned recently after over a year's service in the Pacific, was a guest of his mother, Mrs. A. L. Osborn, over the New Year holiday. Mrs. Osborn had spent Christmas with Lieutenant Commander Osborn and his wife and daughter, Judy, at River Hills, Milwaukee. After his leave, the lieutenant commander will report at Quonset Point, R. I., for A. C. I. (air combat intelligence) training.

Lieut. Chandler Osborn, son of Mrs. A. L. Osborn, 237 Algoma boulevard, has been transferred from the naval air station, Glenview, Ill., for service in the eastern part of the United States. Services of several of the officers at Glenview were requested by a former commander of that station. Lieutenant Osborn, his wife and their daughter, Judith, are on a furlough in the northern part of the state. Lieutenant Osborn will leave for his new station Saturday. His family will remain temporarily at Milwaukee.
