Good morning, Joe.

Thank you again for your willingness to meet with us. You mentioned last week you needed to determine what you could do prior to your confirmation before setting up a meeting. We are hoping now you may know and if a meeting in the near future would be possible. Our purpose at this time would be to introduce ourselves and to provide you background information from our perspectives that we believe would be helpful to you in this important role as ambassador to the Vatican.

Again we can meet you at a place and time convenient to you.

Thank you,

Tim

Hi Tim,

Thanks so much for your email. I am trying to find out what I can and can not do before I am confirmed. Please know that I look forward to getting together at whatever point we can engage. Thanks so much.

Good morning, Joe.

Congratulations on your recent Senate confirmation and happy to see the bipartisan support. We waited until your confirmation to follow up on our October conversation in which you expressed your willingness to meet with us. Is it possible now to schedule a meeting with you at a time and place at your convenience?

Please let me know.

Thank you,

Tim

Dear Mr. Donnelly,

We would like to congratulate you on your nomination to be the next US Ambassador to the Vatican.

I am writing on behalf of survivors of abuse by Catholic clergy. Our groups, Ending Clergy Abuse (ECA), Survivors Network of those Abused by Priests (SNAP) and Nate's Mission, represent the leading international and national survivors and advocates on this important issue.

In 2019 we had the opportunity to meet with then Ambassador Calista Gingrich in Rome during Pope Francis' historic Summit on Clergy Abuse.

We appreciated her willingness to meet and engage with us as it was important for the ambassador to be informed of our positions.

We now ask if you too would meet with us at a time and place convenient to you so we can better inform you from our perspectives and to establish lines of communications.

We understand you are not yet confirmed but hope we can meet informally in the near future.

Attached to this email is a letter that more fully expresses some of our concerns.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Respectfully,

Tim Law

Hi Joe,
I am hoping all is well with you. You must be busy adjusting to your new role and understand you are in the process of setting priorities in your new position. This is my 3rd email attempt to follow up on your very gracious email of October 11,2021 expressing your willingness to meet with us.
It is an important story to be told that you as our US representative to the Vatican are willing to meet with us, US citizens, who are survivors and advocates for those abused by Catholic clergy. Again, we would like to meet with you in the near future at your convenience. Please let me know
Thank you,

Tim
