Lipex is built to keep your reading private. This policy explains what data the app handles and where it lives. The short version: your data stays on your device, and we do not collect it.

Data Stored on Your Device

Your library, reading history, bookmarks, highlights and notes, reading statistics, and settings are stored locally on your device. Lipex has no user accounts and no servers of its own — we cannot see, access, or recover this data.

No Tracking or Analytics

Lipex contains no advertising, no analytics, and no third-party trackers. The app does not profile you and does not transmit usage data to us or to anyone else.

Purchases

Subscriptions are processed entirely by Apple through the App Store. We never receive your payment details. Purchase information is handled according to Apple's privacy policy.

Network Use

Lipex connects to the internet only to load content and images you choose to access. These requests go directly from your device; they do not pass through any server operated by us.

Backups

If you create a backup of your data, the backup file is created on your device and remains entirely under your control. Where you store it is up to you.

Children

Lipex does not knowingly collect any personal information, from children or anyone else.

Changes to This Policy

If this policy changes, the updated version will be available in the app with a revised "last updated" date.
