Agenda:

- [NS] Knative Serving future
  - RedHat is the only vendor currently in the Serving maintainers set with Broadcom not involved in Knative.
  - Dave is still involved in a personal capacity.
  - Would we want to try to reach out to Tidelift to sponsor maintainers?
  - Currently know of at least 4 different companies selling products based on Knative, but only 1 is contributing: Scaleway, Red Hat*, Broadcom, Google, IBM
    - What about Coreweave?
  - Users who are relying on Knative scaling:
    - Bloomberg, Chainguard, CoreWeave, CERN, ???
  - Pattern: Kubernetes keeps adding new features, but Serving needs extra “lift” to support the Kubernetes features for each new feature
    - Have some of these features behind a feature flag, but need to turn them on
    - Should we pivot our validation stance?
  - Functions and Eventing have less competition with Deployment / etc
    - (Norris) Functions and Eventing address a Software Architecture / Integration need whereas Serving addresses a Deployment / Infrastructure need, which Kubernetes already addresses in some part.
    - Challenge: folks are already learning Deployments / Ingress, and don't want to throw away their existing knowledge to migrate to something new
    - Question: should Knative Serving try to get in-tree for Kubernetes?
      - Gateway API is considering moving in-tree
        - Watch and see how this fares
  - Add Knative as a scaler for KEDA?
    - Have an “external scaler” tool that can be driven via gRPC
    - What's the response time?
    - Why should we do it?
    - Not a problem for us to solve
  - Challenge: lots of people are using it, but not enough give-back in terms of contributors or commercialization to support the project.
- [Norris] Needs reviewer for Eventing Observability Blog and Social Media Post
  - Will reach out to Naina for Review via Slack. Proposed date for publishing: 2024-11-06
- WG Roundup:

- Operator:
  - Not a lot of progress; mostly maintenance and keeping lights on
  - Discussion about Helm chart – need to host it, and put it into the release process.
  - Is there stuff we can do to consolidate the work?
    - Automated release is working well, don't break it.
    - Also publish to OperatorHub
- Security

2024-03-26 [ zoom recording ]

Attendees:

- Ali Ok
- Evan Anderson
- Naina Singh
- Norris Sam Osarenkhoe

Agenda:

- KubeCon report:
    - Kiosk was well-attended on Wednesday, slightly less so on Thursday
    - There was roughly equal interest in both Serving ("how does it work") and Eventing ("we really use this"), so we may want to think about balancing our coverage on the website based on that observation. Some interest in functions, too, though that seemed somewhat more obvious to people.
  - Maintainers' Track meeting was full – about 20 people waiting outside at the start; the line started more than 8m before the start of the talk. Probably about 35 people turned away altogether – Evan ended talking with some of them outside the room for a bit.
  - Rolodex: 📇 Rolodex: Knative
    - Also: [📄 KubeCon 2024 EU - Leads \[Public Document\]](#)
    - Evan was able to get about 10 organizations (9 new) agree to follow-up SC interviews of some sort after KubeCon. It would be nice to offer them a suite of engagement options. 📄 Post-KubeCon-EU-24
- I'm thinking of the following:
- questionnaire about usage

- 30-60 minute interview about usage and pain points that we could turn into a blog post
    - published case study
  - Naina is interested in being all interviews
- Inactive maintainers
  - Started reaching out to them
- [aliok] Merging SC and TOC?
  - Should we proceed with coming up with ideas?
  - Lets document the pain point and challenges the why and what concerns we have with current system
  - Explore Options:
    - Reducing Size
    - Merging
    - Etc.
  - [Norris] Idea: Take sample size of previous SC / TOC meeting and calculate average participant size

the plan is to create issues for the following event sources:

eventing-couchdb
eventing-github
eventing-gitlab
eventing-ceph
eventing-kogito
eventing-redis
eventing-kafka (source)
eventing-rabbitmq (source)
```

For each of these, we'd follow the following process:

Create documentation in ./README.md from template to have clear functionality and landing page
Install copy on local kind cluster, update CONTRIBUTING.md with directions as needed.
Check test status on testgrid
Fix flaky tests if needed
Check conformance for the following:
    Retries / delivery contract
    Encryption to backends — if configuration is required, document this configuration
    Error reporting when misconfigured
Document event schema and values
If we have enough contributors, we might go beyond those and look at the ones in knative/eventing — we might also want to look at extracting the eventing-bundled sources into separate sandbox repos, and then doing a packaging trick to bundle them into the core YAMLs. This would probably require some repo refactoring.
