NEGATIVE INVENTORY

The collection contains fifteen rolls, seven packets, and three envelopes of negatives. An attempt has been made to match images from each group with images in the album. This was a tedious job; possible errors include incorrect page numbers, overlooked images, incomplete dates, and missing/incorrect/misspelled locations. Some images were never printed/placed in the album.

While inventory numbers were assigned randomly, in order of processing, there is some continuity between some sets of negatives and others (e.g., the scenes of rice harvesting end on one roll and begin on another). Each set of negative strips in envelopes #1 & 3 are from the same roll; the negatives in envelope #2 are not. Film canisters and envelopes marked "V" show signs of "vinegar syndrome" (i.e., they are out-gassing acetic acid). Others may as well, but the smell was not as pronounced.
