

PAX Unplugged 2025 #MargaritaQuest

The rules: go to 4 different locations from the list below. Take a photo of you/your group & your food and/or beverage, post to social media and tag the photo with “#MargaritaQuest”. Once you have completed the quest, you can find me at the Pinny Arcade Community Meetup (currently listed as being in Community Room 202AB, 2:00-3:00pm Friday, and 1:00-2:00pm Saturday, as of Nov 18) to show me your photos and then claim your reward, your very own GritTiki Pin:

First come first served, when I run out, I run out. That hasn't happened since the last PAX South, but I'll post updates on Twitter if inventory starts running low. Note: If you already have the GritTiki pin, you can obtain the PAX East Orange Cat Tiki or the PAX West Kraken Tiki pins (pictures below).

The List:

Reading Terminal Market: so many options, so little time.

Fox & Son: yes, it's also in RTM, but it's so good it gets its own listing.

Pick A Spot In Chinatown: My recommendations: Dae Bak, Terakawa Ramen, and Hop Sing Laundromat. But if you want to do dim sum, go right ahead.

BAR: 1309 Sansom St, happy hour 5-7pm M-F. Yes, it's real name is BAR.

The Hotel Room Stop: if your friends have a room decorated as an Atlantic Northeast, under sea, tropical immersion bar, then you know you have good friends. Have a refreshing drink in a hotel room with friends, it counts!

Uptown Beer Garden: just south of Love Park, they have a lot of Christmas-y decorated outdoor seating options and some festive drinks available as well.

Bill's Breakfast & Lunch or Jean's Cafe: look, if a breakfast place is open for more than a couple years, and is just a person's first name, it's gonna be good more often than not. Also if you see a lot of blue collar folks eating inside as well.

Philly Cheesesteak from _____: I have no loyalties here - get a cheesesteak from the location of your choice, just don't forget to say which spot you chose in your pic!

Christmas Village: Stop by the Christmas Market by City Hall & Love Park. I recommend a bratwurst with kraut, but you do you. Maybe get a new pair of mittens that you desperately need, or some mulled wine, or a chocolate hammer. I won't judge.
