

Marthinus Petrus Iwanggin

The University of Papua, Forestry
Researcher

Fields of expertise: Dendrology

Marthinus Petrus Iwanggin, a male born in Manokwari on March 25, 1971, started as an honorary worker at the Manokwari Herbarium in 2000. He was appointed civil servant in 2007 after being accepted as a forestry student and graduating in 2012. Marthinus is actively involved in dendrology and participates in survey expeditions to study the diversity of forestry types within the faculty.

In which project themes do you hope to participate?

- Characterize mangrove and seagrass ecosystems using drones and other technologies

Favorite Marine Mammal?

Boar