Before Adventure:
hey bro, sup? i'm so mad right now! my father is keeping me in my house full of annoying robots. i have to live with all these rules. i overheard my dad talking with my Martial Arts teacher. he said i would never be the strong guy. he also said i would not be cut out for a military career - whatever!	Oh i see....well, i'm stuck in this horrible train station stealing things and fixing clocks. sometimes i wish i had rules and i wasn't completely on my own, left to do whatever i want whenever i want. I feel like my only purpose is fixing clocks. 😞
I'm so sorry. want to trade places? my dad needs to give me a break. i feel so constantly stifled.	dude we can't do that! you know i am hiding. i have to keep up my routine of maintaining the clocks. do you even know how clean and manage clocks?!
Well of course not, geesh! i feel so controlled by my dad. It's so frustrating! 😡😭 i wish I could do whatever i wanted.	I disagree with you cause having too much freedom isn't always the best. It can sometimes be stressing too!! i wish i had a parent/guardian to look after me.
I want adventure!! I want to go into town and to the market. U know what, i will! I'm going to take my siblings Rita and Kuda to the bus stop tomorrow morning!	No U Won't! especially not with Kuda! buses are so dangerous. maybe go with your mellow. Man, if you go, u should be really careful.
After Adventure:
Hey Hugo! It's been awhile, dude. i had such an adventure with my brother and sister. We ran into a lady named the She Elephant and a group of people called the Masks.	the She Elephant? the Masks? tell me more!!!
She Elephant is this mean lady who kidnapped us and treated us like slaves. we were almost sold and I was almost sacrificed!	that's horrible dude!! but at least you're happy about being on an adventure! Right? you had always felt stifled by your dad's restrictions over your freedom.

Yeah, i am happy to have been on an adventure but now I understand that freedom comes with a price. without some guidance from my parents i could get in a lot of trouble.	i totally agree with you! thats a good lesson that you've learned from your adventure. i've learned a lot about myself since we last texted. my secret was revealed that I was keeping the clocks running, not my uncle.
Oh no! tell me more!!!!	i found out my purpose in life. I guess that i was right earlier about fixing things but now i think it's more about fixing things to make people happy. im so grateful to Papa Georges for taking me in. im so relieved that i don't need to have responsibility of maintaining the clocks. im looking forward changes in the future.
Me too man. me too. ☺
