

Students Consulting for Nonprofit Organizations

Client Application
Spring 2026

Northwestern University

About Northwestern SCNO

Thank you for your interest in working with Students Consulting for Nonprofit Organizations (SCNO). We look forward to reading your application and learning more about your organization.

SCNO selects an average of five clients per academic quarter and assigns a team of five students and one professional mentor to work with each client on a strategic engagement. We'd like to establish that there will be two mandatory events to attend, our project kick-off and our final presentations that will be in person. However, we do allow clients to attend virtually upon request.

We invite you to learn more about us by visiting our website: https://nuscno.com. If you have any remaining questions, please contact Nadia Bidarian, Director of Client Development at nuscnocd@gmail.com.

Application Process

- 1. Complete this application by Friday, March 6.
- 2. Final decisions will be released by Friday, March 13 at the latest.

As always, if you have any questions, please contact Nadia Bidarian at nuscnocd@gmail.com.

Some tips for a successful application:

- Our students are highly intelligent and skilled at working in the hypothesis-based consulting model. Projects should be built around high-level analysis and solving problems your organization's leaders are asking without predetermined answers.
- We avoid projects that provide task-based support and treat students like interns (ex. building out a website or managing day-to-day social media pages).
- We operate on a 10-week program and it is important that projects can be completed within this timeframe. We ask a lot from our students but know that academics come first. Our strongest applicants have a developed idea of the scope of the project that is able to be completed within 10 weeks.
- Communication is prioritized as we search for clients. The best applications will have a clear leader and point-of-contact who plans on being able to engage with our students on a weekly basis and will attend kick-off and final presentations.
