If you want to use images and make video or other creations public/sharable on your website or to parents, use flickr creative commons. To search and save flickr creative commons images:
-Navigate to flickr creative commons search in Safari (or google this in Safari)
-Tap "see more" under Attribution license

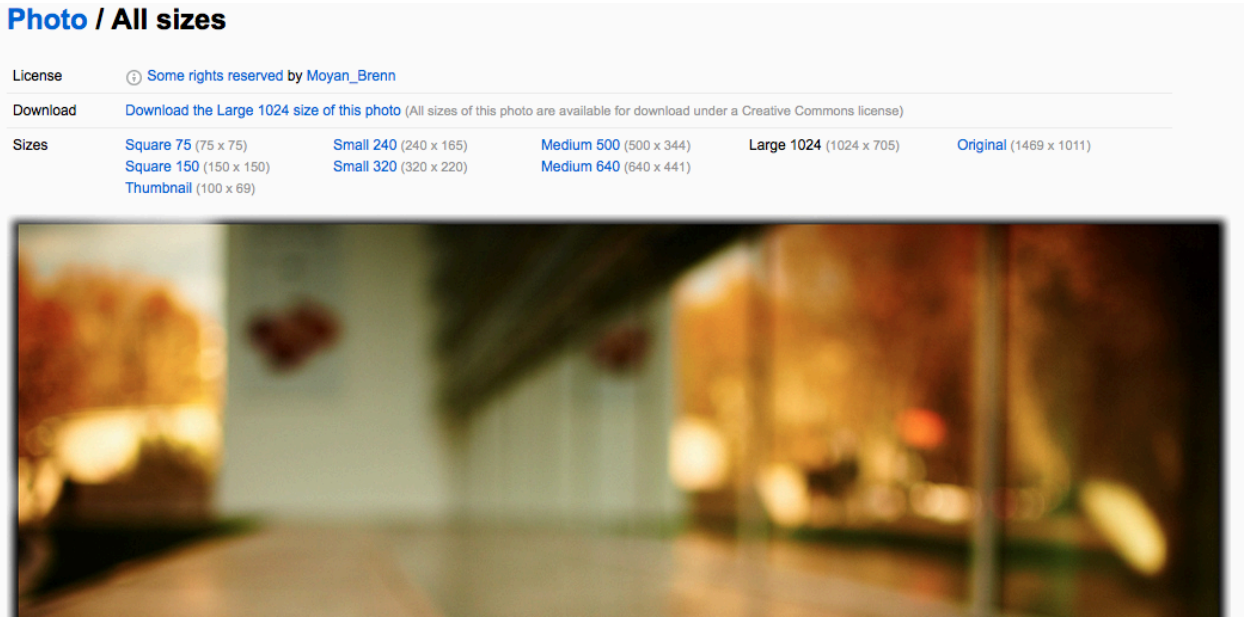

-Use Search bar to search for image

-Tap image, then tap 3 dots in lower right, view all sizes

-on this page you can a) make a note of the flickr user name for attribution (below, Moyan_Brenn and b) tap and hold to save image

-The image will then be available to insert in your project from the Library. In your educreations project (or other projects saved to web), be sure to include a citations page with the attribution "images from ____ on flickr creative commons"
