

PUBLICATION AUTHORIZATION FORM

By means of which the authors grant the editorial management of the Revista de la Facultad de Medicina Veterinaria y de Zootecnia authorization for the publication of unpublished and original manuscripts submitted for publication in its printed version (ISSN 0120-2952) and in its online version (ISSN 2357-3813), according to the following criteria:

City and date:

The undersigned authors of the article entitled:

We agree and accept that:

- a) We are the intellectual authors of the manuscript; we declare that it is unpublished, that is, it has not been submitted, accepted, or published in other printed or electronic technical-scientific journals or publications, and we accept that it be published in the Revista de la Facultad de Medicina Veterinaria y de Zootecnia if approved.
- b) The total or partial content of the submitted manuscript will not be submitted for publication in another journal(s) during the duration of the peer-review and editorial processes of the Revista de la Facultad de Medicina Veterinaria y de Zootecnia.
- c) All authors have read the final version of the submitted article and are responsible for all concepts and information, both text and images, contained therein before the Universidad Nacional de Colombia and before third parties. The editorial management of the Journal is not responsible for the truthfulness and authenticity of such information, nor will it be responsible for resolving conflicts related to the authorship of the manuscript, which is the direct responsibility of those who submit the article.
- d) The article submitted for consideration by the Editorial Committee of the Revista de la Facultad de Medicina Veterinaria y de Zootecnia complies with the standards established in the publication policy and the Instructions for Authors. Otherwise, the manuscript will be rejected until full compliance with the submission requirements is achieved.
- e) The authors acknowledge that the peer-review and editorial process of the article may take several months and that its receipt does not imply either approval or publication.
- f) Once the evaluation process is completed, the authors commit to addressing and incorporating, strictly within the timeframes established by the editor, all observations, corrections, or suggestions made by the peer reviewers and the editor. During the copyediting and editorial process, the incorporation of reviewers' comments will be verified; therefore, if it is found that they have not been integrated into the document, it will not be published until the authors have incorporated them. However, if any of the corrections proposed by the reviewers cannot be included in the final version of the article, the authors may justify their reasons to the editor of the journal in the submission letter of the final version.
- g) The Revista de la Facultad de Medicina Veterinaria y de Zootecnia of the Universidad Nacional de Colombia reserves the right to decide, at any stage of the editorial process, whether an article will be published. This decision will be based on editorial, ethical, and quality criteria, without obligation of justification. In case of non-publication, the author will be notified and their copyright over the unpublished work will be respected.

- h) All authors approve the publication of the complete document in its printed and digital versions, including the different databases in which the Journal is or will be indexed to promote its visibility.
- i) The authors acknowledge that the authorization includes the possibility for the Journal to commercialize the publication through traditional channels and the Internet, or any other known means, and accept that the publication authorization is granted free of charge; therefore, they waive any remuneration for the publication, distribution, public communication, and any other use made under the terms in which the work is published.
- j) The Journal undertakes to always indicate the authorship of its contents, including the names of the authors and the date of publication. Likewise, the authors commit to citing works published in this journal according to international citation standards, including the full or abbreviated name of the Journal (Rev. Med. Vet. Zoot.).
