

Eve-Online NPC Hi-Sec Community

27.03.2017

Aaron

Overview

The NPC Hi-Sec Community is an entity where the people involved are in NPC Corporations which means that we are immune from wardecs and the usual rigors that come with being a corp CEO or member. I would hope for us to become an organisation that will help new and experienced players gain a different perspective of Eve while working with each other outside of the corp mechanic. This should not be seen as a replacement for being in a corp, but more as an organization where you can take a break from corps but still benefit from going on pvp roams or missions with other players.

Features

- Voice and text communication will be provided
- Regular roams into low-sec
- Advice and help with NPC missions
- PVP advice on tactics and fittings
- Friendly and helpful environment
- Fleet Command Opportunities

Goals

- Spread awareness of risk within Eve
- Further the community's understanding of PVP
- Preparing players for corp life
- Have Fun

Rules & Guidelines

I've tried to make this venture have as less rules as possible. If everyone could observe some general guidelines that would be great.

- Respect others and be calm. We all have different levels of understanding within Eve and it is a good idea to accept this.
- If you do have a problem with another person please try your best to hash it out yourself with each other, sometimes it can help to come to a compromise or adjust your ideas so that when you execute the idea people can see clearly that some things don't work through trial.

- Please respect chat and voice channels and remember that there could be young people involved in this.
- No abusive behaviour please and repeat offenders will be warned a few times before being temporarily banned. If abusive behaviour continues this may lead to being permanently banned from voice and chat channels.

General

When this starts off I would suggest using it as a hub to find a few mission partners, get to know one another and keep your risk level low. Also we can keep our risk level low for low sec PVP to start off with and put more money into it as our trust and respect for each other builds. Good luck and I hope to see you within the NPC Hi-Sec Community.