

Name _____

Date _____

Oral History Analysis: South Asian Americans in North Carolina

OBSERVING
Modality - What is the modality of the oral history (i.e., audio, video, written transcript, written document, etc.)?	Interviewer - Who conducted this oral history?	Interviewee - Who was interviewed in this oral history? What is their relationship to the interviewer?
Background information of the interviewee Where are they from? What places have they lived? Where is their family from? What schools have they attended? What occupations have they had?

ANALYZING
What are the interviewee's main claims?	How does the interviewee grapple with their identity?	What are the limitations of this oral history?

Date _____

REFLECTING
What did you learn from this oral history?	What was the emotional impact of this oral history?	What other questions would you like to ask?

USING AS HISTORICAL EVIDENCE
Think about the events and histories described in the oral history. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• How does the oral history affirm what you have learned about South Asian Americans in North Carolina?• How does this oral history add to what you have learned about South Asian Americans in North Carolina?• Are there any inconsistencies? If so, what might account for the inconsistencies?
Why is this oral history important?
How does this oral history shape your understanding of the South Asian American community in North Carolina?