

Hi,

We care about users privacy very strictly so we do following:

- We do not collect any information or data of our users.
- We use third party advertisements and we do not have any control on them
- They might get your information through the cookies or any other sort of way
- We are not responsible for that
- We have collected all the data from the different sources online and if you feel the data is not correct or have been used without any permission you can email us for removal of any data.

If you have any query or concern you can reach us by the following email address:

M D Khan