

SUMMER PROFESSIONAL LEARNING SUMMIT 2024
Teacher-Led Workshops

Get ready to reignite your love of teaching at this summer's Professional Learning Summit! You are guaranteed to walk away with practical strategies you can implement on Day One of the 2024-25 school year. With over 24 sessions across all grade levels and subjects, you're sure to find the perfect fit as you will have the opportunity to learn from our own colleagues on a variety of topics ranging from supporting English Language Learners, addressing students' social/emotional well-being, co-teaching and differentiating instruction to help all students learn, incorporating teacher-tested pedagogies and classroom management strategies, and effectively integrating technology into your professional practice. In the spirit of EdCamp, participants will have the opportunity to attend 3 x 45 minute sessions of their choosing. Consider joining us to learn from each other and connect with like-minded colleagues to share ideas! The Professional Learning Summit offers 3.5 hours of CTLE credit as well as the opportunity for teachers to submit a pay voucher at the contractual rate (as a presenter and/or participant). Paraprofessionals are welcome to attend--TAs who lead workshops will be paid at the contractual rate.

Session 1 9:00 - 9:45	Title: Gamification in the Classroom Presenter: Heather Molina, CMS, World Languages Description: Dragon Quest! Using Role Playing Games to create a flipped unit that will have your students running to class every day! In this workshop I will share the strategy and framework I successfully used to create a unit on food and meal taking that had students pushing themselves to learn more and achieve more than they ever had before. This differentiated plan allows all students to move at their own pace. You will leave with a framework to create your own adaptable unit applicable to your discipline.	Title: Developing Culturally Responsive Classroom Communities for ELL Students Presenter: Stacy Gunnip, WGHS, ENL Description: Participants will look at the role of life outside the classroom. We will investigate the areas of immigration, trauma, transience, outside work and stereotypes on ELL students' education and develop supportive factors that can be utilized. Participants will also complete a Cultural Awareness, Knowledge, and Skills Self-Assessment to help identify strengths and areas that can be improved upon.	Title: Infographics Made Easy Presenter: Maria Britton, WGHS Social Studies Description: In this session you will learn how to implement the Number Mania EduProtocol to help students collaboratively collect data points and represent them visually in an infographic using Google Slides. Tips for scaffolding and differentiating the activity to support all learners will be included.	Title: Infusing the Sound Wall into CKLA Instruction Presenters: Hannah Humphrey, Erin Bednarski, Anne McCarthy, Colleen Vislosky, Shennan Colburn, STE, 2nd Grade Description: This workshop will provide training for elementary and intermediate teachers on what the sound wall is, how to include it in your classroom (both physically and instructionally), and how we can align the sound wall with CKLA core instruction. Teachers will be provided with resources that include materials to make a physical sound wall, handouts for students to use when decoding and encoding, and slides that align CKLA and sound wall sound-spelling patterns, among others. This will be a continuation from our collegial circle that explored sound walls as they relate to CKLA. We hope that this will vertically align classrooms K-5 in their decoding and encoding instruction.	Title: Vocabulary Instruction & Strategies at the Middle School Level Presenter: Kerry Uy, CMS, ELA Description: Learning to utilize and "own" Tier Two vocabulary is so important to student success no matter the grade level or content area! Please join me to delve into our new Wildcat Words program at CMS and learn some easy, quick strategies for teaching vocabulary and reinforcing vocabulary acquisition with your students. Strategies can be adapted and used with any grade level. Let's take your vocabulary instruction to the next level!!	Title: Executive Functioning--NOT Just a Buzzword! Presenter: Rebecca Wood, CMS, Psych. Description: It seems like everywhere you look in education, the new "thing" is Executive Functioning, but do we really have an understanding of what this means and how it shows up in our classrooms? This session will provide an overview of Executive Functioning and what it looks like with school assignments, expectations, and daily functioning. Participants will learn the different executive functions, analyze an assignment used in their class for executive function needs, and be provided with Tier 1 and Tier 2 intervention ideas.	Title: Brain-Based Learning Strategies Presenter: Cara Graham, WGHS, Social Studies Description: Brain-based learning uses neuroscience to create an informed curriculum and lesson design. The goal? Speedy and efficient learning. The research that informs this method centers around the brain's ability to change, remap, and reorganize itself while someone is learning new information. This session will provide practical and easy-to-implement brain-based learning strategies to maximize student learning. All are welcome, but the focus will be to support secondary educators.	Title: Common Formative Assessments Using LinkIt! Presenter: Stephanie Finn, Literacy Coach Description: The LinkIt! platform allows teachers to create/access classroom-level formative assessments, unit tests, progress monitoring, district-level assessments, and curriculum-based interim assessments. This workshop will show educators how to develop assessments on LinkIt to track student progress. Digitizing assessments makes it easy to review the data and identify what students have mastered the skills and standards for your subject area, and grade level. It supports the PLC process and can be a helpful tool for reviewing data in a PLT meeting.	Title: AI in Education--Boom or Doom? Presenter: Rob Leo, DO, Dir. of Professional Learning Description: Anxious about Artificial Intelligence invading your classroom? Learn about the potential implications of AI as well as strategies you can use to boost efficiency for a variety of professional tasks.	Special Observation Opportunity Title: VEX Robotics Camp Presenter: Jenn MacArthur, EH, IS Description: Feel free to stop by the Library to observe STEM learning in action as students build, code, and explore STEM concepts in engaging ways!
