

Name: _____

LOTF Essay Schedule

Day 1: (Weekend)

- Choose 1 of the statements and make it a thesis SPECIFIC to the novel.
- Write your 3 topic sentences for body paragraphs.

Day 2: (Monday)

- Find 3 short quotes to support each topic sentence in your body paragraphs (total of 9 quotes)
- Plan your body paragraph #1

Day 3: (Tuesday)

- Plan your body paragraphs #2 and #3
- Write your introduction at home tonight (ONLY the introduction and conclusion are done at home)

Day 4: (Wednesday)

- Write your body paragraphs in class
- Write your conclusion at home (ONLY the introduction and conclusion are done at home).
- Exchange with someone to have it peer edited
- Peer edit someone's at home and return to them the next day

Day 5: (Thursday)

- Bring in rough drafts to be checked off by the teacher (that's me!)
- Complete your good copy at home and bring in as a hard copy

Final Copy Due: Wednesday, January 11 2012 Materials:

- Lord of the Flies novel and notes.
- Essay Package handed out in class

- Citation guideline
- Peer evaluation sheet
- Formal essay standard rubric

Please ensure that you have all materials with you in class

Procedure:

You can get feedback from me, as well as other classmates while writing the essay just be CAREFUL that you do not use very similar ideas and quotes in your essays.

You can also get feedback from parents/siblings/friends etc. once you have completed your rough draft.

Once we have planned and written the essay, we will edit and rewrite, then submit the final product for evaluation.

I must OK and initial your outlines and 1st draft before you proceed to the next stage.

Checklist

You must submit the following Essay Package with your final copy: (in this order)

- Final Draft (good copy)
- Works Cited
- Essay RUBRIC
- Outline: Building your Essay
- First Draft (Cannot be typed, must be written in class)
- First Typed Draft
- Peer Edit Process Sheet
- All rough work
- Stapled