

For each question, write the city and country. No need to write out the question.

1. A bay is a recessed coastal body of water that directly connects to another body of water. What major city is located on the Tokyo Bay?
2. Rio de Janeiro might be the most famous city of this country, but the most populated city of the same country is down the coast and situated about 70 kilometers inland from the Port of Santos, which is the busiest shipping container port in South America.
3. A river delta is created as a river enters another body of water. What city is situated on the river delta that flows into the Mediterranean Sea?
4. This large city is located in the middle of the country with the same name. It's situated about halfway between the Pacific Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.
5. This North American port city is the site of several large county-level administrative divisions called boroughs. It's where the Hudson River empties into the Atlantic Ocean.
6. A very densely populated capital city in a very densely populated country, it is bounded by several rivers including the Buriganga.
7. This capital city is built on a river that empties into the English Channel at La Havre.