How It Works

How Do I Order Cannabis Online?

Customers can visit the online ordering page, browse the current inventory, select products, and add them to their order. The Shop Now option provides direct access to available cannabis flower, pre-rolls, edibles, concentrates, vapes, CBD products, beverages, and accessories.

How Does In-Store Pickup Work?

After placing an order online, customers can wait for confirmation that the order is ready. They must visit the store, provide valid government-issued photo identification, and complete payment using an accepted method such as a debit or credit card when available.

What Should I Bring When Visiting?

Every customer must bring valid government-issued photo identification showing that they are at least 19 years old. Customers collecting an online order should also bring any confirmation information provided during checkout.

How Long Does the Pickup Process Take?

Pickup times depend on order volume, product availability, and store activity. Ordering online in advance can make the in-store process more efficient because selected products can be prepared before arrival.

THE WOODS

Pricing and Payment

How Much Does Cannabis Cost?

Cannabis prices vary depending on product category, brand, potency, package size, and format. Customers can find both value-oriented and premium products through the online menu.

What Factors Influence Pricing?

Product type is one of the primary pricing factors, with flower, pre-rolls, concentrates, edibles, beverages, CBD products, and vapes often having different price ranges. Premium and value brands may be priced differently, while THC or CBD content, package size, manufacturing process, and product format can also affect cost.

Are Promotions Available?

Limited-time offers or store promotions may be available on selected products. Customers should review the current online menu or contact the store for accurate promotional information.

What Payment Methods Are Accepted?

Accepted payment methods may include debit, cash, or credit card, depending on current store policies. Customers should contact the location directly when they need confirmation about a specific payment option.

Cost Factors

The cost of cannabis depends on several variables. Product category affects price because flower, pre-rolls, concentrates, edibles, beverages, CBD products, and vape products are produced and packaged differently. Brand positioning may also influence cost, with premium and value options available at different price points. THC and CBD content can affect pricing, while larger package sizes generally cost more overall than smaller quantities. Different formats also have varying price ranges, and limited-time promotions may reduce the cost of selected products.
