

We have used the reward dollars from our Scholastic Book Fair to purchase a subscription to Grolier Online, a comprehensive source of nonfiction content, up-to-date information, and homework help. Grolier Online provides us with access to differentiated content for learning and/or research experience. Our SMS family can access Grolier Online anywhere there is an Internet connection.

Teachers, you can use this as a curriculum building resource. If you need help sending the PDF of any article or image out to your students for offline homework, please let me know. Students, you can use Grolier as a source of safe, reliable information with easy to use citation features.

We have purchased three databases: Multimedia Encyclopedia, Lands and People, and New Book of Popular Science. Each database can be searched separately and offers its own unique features.

At some point today, Mr. Lizenby will push out a Go Grolier web clip to students.

This web clip will be used for both school and home access to our subscription. Even if a student is at home and clicks the app on our device, he or she will be recognized through the global proxy, and he or she will not be required to log in to Grolier.

If a student is not on a school owned device, please direct him or her to <http://go.grolier.com>. The student can then log in using scottsburg as the username and Grolier as the password; this will gain the student full access to our database subscription.

The Go Tutorials in this tab are appropriate for both students and teachers.
