

Match the words to the sentences

box, dead, everything, flowers, girl, go, head, help, late,
look, relax, town

JIGO: Give the head back now? Come on, boy, don't be silly. Now? When the sun's about to come up? Look! He's a brainless, swollen, life sucking, God of Death! But at sunrise, he'll vanish, like a bad dream!

MAN 1: Sir! It's coming! We got to get out of here!

JIGO: Look, everybody wants (1)_____. That's the way the world is. But I might actually get it.

ASHITAKA: Don't force me to kill you.

JIGO: Oh, dear, you make it sound so very easy. You really out to (2)_____! [Jigo attacks Ashitaka as one of the other men go after San with a dagger.] (to two men left) Get going!

[The two men run for the crest of the hill, carrying the box, as San runs after them. They trip, letting go of the box as it tumbles back down the hill. The two men run away as San runs after the box.]

SAN: Ashitaka!

[Ashitaka turns and sees the rolling box as Jigo steps out in front of it.]

JIGO: I got it! [The box hits Jigo in the chest and continues to roll down, bringing Jigo with it.]

Everything's... uff... under... oh...control! [The box lands on top of a large and stops rolling. The remaining man, Ashitaka, and San run on to the rock.] This is bad.

MAN 2: Master, we're surrounded! Yeahh!!

[The ooze surrounds them on all sides.]

JIGO: Come on sun, rise!

ASHITAKA: Open the (3)_____!

JIGO: Don't you see? It's too (4)_____ for that now.

SAN: Why are you wasting your breath talking to him?

ASHITAKA: Human hands must return it!

JIGO: Don't say I didn't warn you.

[Jigo opens the box and Ashitaka and San reach inside and pull out the head. They hold it above their heads and San gasps as a purple demon mark starts spreading on her as Ashitaka as well.]

ASHITAKA: Forest Spirit! We give you back your (5)_____!
Take it, and be in peace!

[The headless Forest Spirit stops and 'looks' down.]

JIGO: Ahh... well, that got his attention all right.

[The neck reaches down, turning yellow and envelops its head, Ashitaka, San, Jigo, and the man. Everything suddenly turns very quiet as the IronTown women stand in the water, waiting.]

KAROUKU: Well, I think it's over.

WOMAN 1: Look, it's the men!

[The women look over to the other side of the river where a couple of rafts are making their way to them. Yakkul stands on one of them.]

WOMAN 2: The men! The men are back!

MAN: (on raft) I really can't believe we made it! I never thought I'd live to see home again!

[A few of the women climb aboard the raft and gather around Eboshi.]

WOMEN: My Lady!

GONZA: Be careful! My Ladyship has been injured.

[Silence reigns as the sun starts to rise. The spirit starts to dissipate as the main body falls towards IronTown.]

MAN: Look! It's falling on IronTown!

[The spirit falls onto the town, disappearing as it hits the water. A strong wind blows up as everyone on and around the raft hang on.]

TOKI: Hang on tight, everybody! Don't let (6)_____!

[The wind lets up as slowly, green starts returning to the land. Grass and flowers grow on the land where the ooze had killed it. On the ruins of IronTown, grass grows over it.]

KAROUKU: Huh. I didn't know the Forest Spirit made the (7)_____ grow.

[Back at the rock, tall grass has grown up. The two wolves sit on the rock as Yakkul comes towards them. He stops and bends down to where Ashitaka and San are lying on the ground. Yakkul nibbles on Ashitaka.]

ASHITAKA: gasp San. San, (8)_____.

[Ashitaka gently shakes San and she looks up, staring at the grass. Both of them run to the top of the hill and look out at the forest, slowly returning to normal.]

SAN: Even if all the trees return it won't be his forest anymore. The Great Forest Spirit is dead, now.

ASHITAKA: Never. He's life itself. He's not (9)_____, San. He's here right now. Trying to tell us something. That it's time for both of us to live.

[Ashitaka looks down at his right hand where a faint purple mark remains, to remind him. San climbs onto one of the wolves and looks down at Ashitaka.]

SAN: Ashitaka, you mean so much to me. But I can't forgive the humans for what they've done.

ASHITAKA: I understand. You'll live in the forest and I'll go
(10)_____ them rebuild IronTown. I'll always be near. Yakkul and I will come and visit you whenever we can, alright?

[San nods as she and the wolves return to the forest.]

LADY EBOSHI: Amazing. The wolves and that crazy little wolf
(11)_____ helped save us all. Ashitaka. Can someone find him? I need to thank him. We're going to start all over again. This time we'll build a better (12)_____.

[On the rock, Jigo sits and watches.]

JIGO: Well, I give up. Can't win against fools.

[In the forest a lone Kodama appears, turns its head to the side and sets it clicking.]

Answers:

JIGO: Give the head back now? Come on, boy, don't be silly. Now? When the sun's about to come up? Look! He's a brainless, swollen, life sucking, God of Death! But at sunrise, he'll vanish, like a bad dream!

MAN 1: Sir! It's coming! We got to get out of here!

JIGO: Look, everybody wants (1)everything. That's the way the world is. But I might actually get it.

ASHITAKA: Don't force me to kill you.

JIGO: Oh, dear, you make it sound so very easy. You really out to (2)relax! [Jigo attacks Ashitaka as one of the other men go after San with a dagger.] (to two men left) Get going!

[The two men run for the crest of the hill, carrying the box, as San runs after them. They trip, letting go of the box as it tumbles back down the hill. The two men run away as San runs after the box.]

SAN: Ashitaka!

[Ashitaka turns and sees the rolling box as Jigo steps out in front of it.]

JIGO: I got it! [The box hits Jigo in the chest and continues to roll down, bringing Jigo with it.]

Everything's... uff... under... oh...control! [The box lands on top of a large and stops rolling. The remaining man, Ashitaka, and San run on to the rock.] This is bad.

MAN 2: Master, we're surrounded! Yeahh!!

[The ooze surrounds them on all sides.]

JIGO: Come on sun, rise!

ASHITAKA: Open the (3)box!

JIGO: Don't you see? It's too (4)late for that now.

SAN: Why are you wasting your breath talking to him?

ASHITAKA: Human hands must return it!

JIGO: Don't say I didn't warn you.

[Jigo opens the box and Ashitaka and San reach inside and pull out the head. They hold it above their heads and San gasps as a purple demon mark starts spreading on her as Ashitaka as well.]

ASHITAKA: Forest Spirit! We give you back your (5)head! Take it, and be in peace!

[The headless Forest Spirit stops and 'looks' down.]

JIGO: Ahh... well, that got his attention all right.

[The neck reaches down, turning yellow and envelops its head, Ashitaka, San, Jigo, and the man. Everything suddenly turns very quiet as the IronTown women stand in the water, waiting.]

KAROUKU: Well, I think it's over.

WOMAN 1: Look, it's the men!

[The women look over to the other side of the river where a couple of rafts are making their way to them. Yakkul stands on one of them.]

WOMAN 2: The men! The men are back!

MAN: (on raft) I really can't believe we made it! never thought I'd live to see home again!

[A few of the women climb aboard the raft and gather around Eboshi.]

WOMEN: My Lady!

GONZA: Be careful! My Ladyship has been injured.

[Silence reigns as the sun starts to rise. The spirit starts to dissipate as the main body falls towards IronTown.]

MAN: Look! It's falling on IronTown!

[The spirit falls onto the town, disappearing as it hits the water. A strong wind blows up as everyone on and around the raft hang on.]

TOKI: Hang on tight, everybody! Don't let (6)go!

[The wind lets up as slowly, green starts returning to the land. Grass and flowers grow on the land where the ooze had killed it. On the ruins of IronTown, grass grows over it.]

KAROUKU: Huh. I didn't know the Forest Spirit made the (7)flowers grow.

[Back at the rock, tall grass has grown up. The two wolves sit on the rock as Yakkul comes towards them. He stops and bends down to where Ashitaka and San are lying on the ground. Yakkul nibbles on Ashitaka.]

ASHITAKA: gasp San. San, (8)look.

[Ashitaka gently shakes San and she looks up, staring at the grass. Both of them run to the top of the hill and look out at the forest, slowly returning to normal.]

SAN: Even if all the trees return it won't be his forest anymore. The Great Forest Spirit is dead, now.

ASHITAKA: Never. He's life itself. He's not (9)dead, San. He's here right now. Trying to tell us something. That it's time for both of us to live.

[Ashitaka looks down at his right hand where a faint purple mark remains, to remind him. San climbs onto one of the wolves and looks down at Ashitaka.]

SAN: Ashitaka, you mean so much to me. But I can't forgive the humans for what they've done.

ASHITAKA: I understand. You'll live in the forest and I'll go (10)help them rebuild IronTown. I'll always be near. Yakkul and I will come and visit you whenever we can, alright?

[San nods as she and the wolves return to the forest.]

LADY EBOSHI: Amazing. The wolves and that crazy little wolf (11)girl helped save us all. Ashitaka. Can someone find him? I need to thank him. We're going to start all over again. This time we'll build a better (12)town.

[On the rock, Jigo sits and watches.]

JIGO: Well, I give up. Can't win against fools.

[In the forest a lone Kodama appears, turns its head to the side and sets it clicking.]