

THAD [unlocked]

► START HERE: In compliance with federal regulations and company policy, all employees must complete this form to verify identity and employment authorization. Failure to provide the required documentation may result in termination of employment.

SECTION 1. EMPLOYEE INFORMATION (an employee must complete form no later than the first day of employment but not before accepting a job offer)

LAST NAME ORTIZ		FIRST NAME THADDEUS	MIDDLE INITIAL
ALIAS THAD	AGE 26	PRONOUNS HE/HIM
HEIGHT 1,85 m		DEPARTMENT SAFETY DEPARTMENT

SECTION 2. CORE ATTRIBUTES (These attributes are assessed using a combination of psychological profiling, situational judgment tests, and past performance metrics.)

FORTITUDE II (+2)	PRUDENCE II (+2)	TEMPERANCE IV (+7)	JUSTICE III (+9)
----------------------	---------------------	-----------------------	---------------------

DESCRIPTION

Thaddeus is a rather odd cheerful guy considering he goes about in life rather messily. Finding great joy in keeping himself busy within the company and just thinking of the present, he's the type to offer a helping hand, sometimes when he isn't even needed. Understanding social cues isn't quite his forte, but being duller than a worn tool helps him be rather thick-skinned when it comes to whatever insults or comments that may come his way.

Aside from that, Thaddeus is the type to gladly overwork himself, not because he chases after anyone's praise but because he says he will die from boredom otherwise. Though he appears to be the diligent type, he's the type to easily be swayed to help out others, even if nothing is offered in return.

Surprisingly enough he's not inclined to talk about his past, keeping the details at minimum most of the time.

TLDR: A young, cheerful young man who is still alive because oxygen is free and he knows how to work a microwave. A dedicated worker who's happy to take on someone else's work even if his share is not done just yet. It's hard to make an enemy of him but even if he would call anyone a friend, it's not easy to get to know him either.

BACKGROUND

Thaddeus would say he had a rather boring life, born to a single mother alongside his twin brother Theo. From the start he appeared to be the lesser of the twins, often falling asleep or lacking in his studies, more than often depending on his brother to take the lead and keep him on track but he was happy with this sort of life. Truly his early life was pretty uneventful aside from a couple broken bones here and there.

As Thaddeus grew into a young adult, he found himself rather lost and unsure where to head next in life after finishing his education. Hence why the quickest solution should be to look for aid in good old and trusty Theo who already had a stable job. Oddly enough Theo didn't give in to his queries, which only made Thaddeus push harder to be let into this secret of his brother's, how was he not capable enough to know?

Finally after much insisting (and rummaging around his brother's home) Thaddeus came to know about his work involving "Angels" for a research facility of sorts. At the time he didn't quite measure the severity and risk of his brother's work, diving head straight into applying for a position as an agent. Life seemed to fall back into place as he learned the ropes of his new occupation. Time passed and Thaddeus would almost say he fit right in (to his brother's utter annoyance). That was until something happened, though it would always slip Thaddeus' mind whenever he's asked.

[When he tries especially hard, Thaddeus will first feel a headache hitting him full force as glimpses of the accident come back to him. His brother had warned him before going in that something was amiss with the Angels behaviour. But Thaddeus just brushed him off, the man wasn't even directly involved with them so what did he have to worry about. The rest of the day had been a blur. An accident, something had been wrong with those...entities...had his brother been present? He remembered something bad happening - but what exactly.

A report was filed that same day about the accident involving the Ortiz twins. Thaddeus Ortiz was driven into a state of panic due to the Angel's influence, it was the first time that it ever happened but it left lasting consequences as Theo Ortiz insisted on fetching his brother. Appearing in an utter state of confusion and erratic actions, Thaddeus had been resisting his brother's, grabbing the man and forcefully throwing him into the room with the Angel. Personnel arriving at the scene spoke of finding Thaddeus in a state of shock, sitting with his back leaning against the door. His mind would remain in disarray as his next course of action was demanding to be moved to a new location.]

But that convinced him to request a transfer - any company would do. That was when the possibility of joining Powell General Electric fell into Thaddeus hands. Did he skim over the fine print of the job, maybe; did he check the location, of course he had never been to Antarctica. Overall Thaddeus felt he knew enough from his previous employers, surely he would fit right in! Without much of a second thought, the lad packed up and left for this new opportunity, perhaps this was the change he had been needing.

TRIVIA

- Has a horrible sense of color matching (due to being completely colorblind), so he tends to stick to monochromatics - the issue is choosing the right one
- Can and will fall asleep in the most random places he can find, underneath a table has already been a perfect nook for a nap but what about hanging off upside down from a flight of stairs (surprisingly his back hasn't suffered that much damage)
- Wears shades / tends to squint a lot due to light sensitivity
- Can't be trusted to cook anything on his own, would probably be the first of many cases of food poisoning
- Likes alcohol a normal amount due to being a lightweight
- Extremely forgetful, not misplacing keys type of guy but he will fully forget people's names and/or important dates
- Will walk into stuff constantly if distracted

I attest, under penalty of perjury, that the information provided in this document is true, complete, and accurate to the best of my knowledge. I understand that any false statements, misrepresentations, or omissions may result in disqualification from employment or disciplinary action, including termination.

SIGNATURE OF EMPLOYEE

SIGNATURE OR PRINTED NAME OF EMPLOYEE

DATE

09/4/XXXX

THAD [Locked]

Powell General Electric

Employment Eligibility Verification
Authorized Personnel Only

OMII No.
PGE-2025-001
EXPIRES 0000

► START HERE: In compliance with federal regulations and company policy, all employees must complete this form to verify identity and employment authorization. Failure to provide the required documentation may result in termination of employment.

SECTION 1. EMPLOYEE INFORMATION (an employee must complete form no later than the first day of employment but not before accepting a job offer)

LAST NAME ORTIZ		FIRST NAME THADDEUS	MIDDLE INITIAL
ALIAS THAD	AGE 26	PRONOUNS HE/HIM
HEIGHT 1,85 m		DEPARTMENT SAFETY DEPARTMENT

SECTION 2. CORE ATTRIBUTES (These attributes are assessed using a combination of psychological profiling, situational judgment tests, and past performance metrics.)

FORTITUDE II (+2)	PRUDENCE II (+2)	TEMPERANCE IV (+7)	JUSTICE III (+9)
----------------------	---------------------	-----------------------	---------------------

DESCRIPTION

Thaddeus is a rather odd cheerful guy considering he goes about in life rather messily. Finding great joy in keeping himself busy within the company and just thinking of the present, he's the type to offer a helping hand, sometimes when he isn't even needed. Understanding social cues isn't quite his forte, but being duller than a worn tool helps him be rather thick-skinned when it comes to whatever insults or comments that may come his way.

Aside from that, Thaddeus is the type to gladly overwork himself, not because he chases after anyone's praise but because he says he will die from boredom otherwise. Though he appears to be the diligent type, he's the type to easily be swayed to help out others, even if nothing is offered in return.

Surprisingly enough he's not inclined to talk about his past, keeping the details at minimum most of the time.

TLDR: A young, cheerful young man who is still alive because oxygen is free and he knows how to work a microwave. A dedicated worker who's happy to take on someone else's work even if his share is not done just yet. It's hard to make an enemy of him but even if he would call anyone a friend, it's not easy to get to know him either.

BACKGROUND

Thaddeus would say he had a rather boring life, born to a single mother alongside his twin brother Theo. From the start he appeared to be the lesser of the twins, often falling asleep or lacking in his studies, more than often depending on his brother to take the lead and keep him on track but he was happy with this sort of life. Truly his early life was pretty uneventful aside from a couple broken bones here and there.

As Thaddeus grew into a young adult, he found himself rather lost and unsure where to head next in life after finishing his education. Hence why the quickest solution should be to look for aid in good old and trusty Theo who already had a stable job. Oddly enough Theo didn't give in to his queries, which only made Thaddeus push harder to be let into this secret of his brother's, how was he not capable enough to know?

Finally after much insisting (and rummaging around his brother's home) Thaddeus came to know about his work involving "Angels" for a research facility of sorts. At the time he didn't quite measure the severity and risk of his brother's work, diving head straight into applying for a position as an agent. Life seemed to fall back into place as he learned the ropes of his new occupation. Time passed and Thaddeus would almost say he fit right in (to his brother's utter annoyance). That was until something happened, though it would always slip Thaddeus' mind whenever he's asked.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

A report was filed that same day about the accident involving the Ortiz twins. Thaddeus Ortiz was driven into a state of panic due to the Angel's influence, it was the first time that it ever happened but it left lasting consequences as Theo Ortiz insisted on fetching his brother. Appearing in an utter state of confusion and erratic actions, Thaddeus had been resisting his brother's, grabbing the man and forcefully throwing him into the room with the Angel. Personnel arriving at the scene spoke of finding Thaddeus in a state of shock, sitting with his back leaning against the door. His mind would remain in disarray as his next course of action was demanding to be moved to a new location.]

But that convinced him to request a transfer - any company would do. That was when the possibility of joining Powell General Electric fell into Thaddeus hands. Did he skim over the fine print of the job, maybe; did he check the location, of course he had never been to Antarctica. Overall Thaddeus felt he knew enough from his previous employers, surely he would fit right in! Without much of a second thought, the lad packed up and left for this new opportunity, perhaps this was the change he had been needing.

TRIVIA

- Has a horrible sense of color matching (due to being completely colorblind), so he tends to stick to monochromatics - the issue is choosing the right one
- Can and will fall asleep in the most random places he can find, underneath a table has already been a perfect nook for a nap but what about hanging off upside down from a flight of stairs (surprisingly his back hasn't suffered that much damage)
- Wears shades / tends to squint a lot due to light sensitivity
- Can't be trusted to cook anything on his own, would probably be the first of many cases of food poisoning
- Likes alcohol a normal amount due to being a lightweight
- Extremely forgetful, not misplacing keys type of guy but he will fully forget people's names and/or important dates
- Will walk into stuff constantly if distracted

I attest, under penalty of perjury, that the information provided in this document is true, complete, and accurate to the best of my knowledge. I understand that any false statements, misrepresentations, or omissions may result in disqualification from employment or disciplinary action, including termination.

SIGNATURE OF EMPLOYEE

DATE

09/4/XXXX