

SINFUL SPIKES

THE RULES

The commissioned work can not and will not be used in the fields of NFT's, AI content, or anything of the like by the commissioner.

The requests in the commission forms are just that - requests for a commission. They can be accepted, asked for alterations, or rejected.

THE PROCESS

1. Contact me through my commission form. Note that certain options are provided in some openings and may not be available in others. Commission forms are not first come first serve, rather they're chosen from the list of submissions instead.

If chosen, I will contact you through the information provided. If there is no way to reach you, the client, I will move on to the next one so make sure your contact information is correct.

2. We will discuss your submitted idea and the final amount will be confirmed with the details given. Certain ideas can have rough thumbnails provided if necessary to establish the commission. Note that complex ideas can be turned down and additional accommodations such as private commissions can have higher rates or be declined as well.

3. Once the idea is approved, I will send the invoice and allow payment. Unless discussed prior, you will have 48 hours to complete the invoice or else your slot will be removed. Outside of the thumbnails, no work will be provided until the payment has been sent. Partial pay can be arranged for large projects or additional characters. Once the payment is sent, there are no refunds.

4. Works-in-progress will be given with a limited number of revisions outside of small details from the roughs stage to the flats stage. Any excessive revisions past the line art stage will be charged.

5. When the commission is finished upon approval, I will update the paypal invoice and the final files will be sent, full and upload sizes. Even if I didn't upload them yet, you are allowed to upload and post whenever you like after the final files are sent, just give credit!

If there are any inquiries, feel free to ask.
