Coach Gunadan of the Shinhan Bank Incheon, a women's professional basketball team, has vowed to win the match against Bucheon Hana One Q. He aims to continue his dramatic advance to the playoffs by continuing his upward trend in recent months. "I think that's one of the most important games this season for us as well. If we win today, we will certainly have a hope for a playoff," Gunadan told reporters ahead of the Hana One Q match, a home game of 2023-24 women's professional basketball that will take place at the Dowon Gymnasium in Incheon on Monday.

Shinhan Bank, which moved up to fifth place with 4 wins and 15 losses over Busan BNK Sum, narrowed the gap with fourth-place Hana One Q to three games. Its performance in the last five games is clearly on the rise with 3 wins and 2 losses. Although it had difficulties in the first half of the year due to a series of injured players, it has been on the rise in tandem with Kim Tae-yeon's return.

"That's why I tried to prepare more thoroughly. It's been a while since I played against Hana One Q, and I'm going to play a good game," coach Gunadan said. "Today, I'm going to small lineup from the beginning. I'm going to try to change this and that so that my opponent can't prepare much. I'll use (Gang)gye-ri from the beginning, and I'll manage when I'm winning and when I'm losing differently. I really want to win. I also got into the mood. I have to follow the flow well by winning today's game. Or I'll become a flash."

The winner was Kim Jong Un's blockade around the world. "Kim Jong Un does not score many goals, but rather breaks the tempo at a really important situation. It should give Kim a lot of trouble. It is the same for all coaches, but in the end, defense and rebound should be achieved. To attack, a rebound is necessary. If Kim Tae-yeon joins the team when there is no rebound, it will be a boost," Gunathan said.

The same holds true for Hana One Q coach Kim Do-wan. His performance in the last five games is one win and four losses. If he misses this game, the mood could drastically deteriorate. "Today's an important game. Shinhan is not inferior to us in terms of players. Rather than winning, we decided to play with the mindset of pouring out 100 percent of our players and playing to the end with the opponent." In the end, it is the opponent who is being chased. I think the opponent will come out strong, but I hope that the game will be played with the mindset of going back rather than rushing," Kim said.

"After (Kim) Tae-yeon joined the team, the opponent team gained strength to fight rebound inside the team. Thanks to this, other players seem to be taking their movements comfortably. I think it will be a rebound fight in the end," coach Kim Do-wan said. "Let's not allow three points as much as possible." "I think that if we don't get behind in the physical fight like we did with KB and do a rebound fight, we will have a good game. I hope the players don't get nervous because of the pressure to win," he added. 스포츠토토
