Retaliation

Welcome, scum. The game will begin soon.

Game begins the 8th right?

I think I discovered how to fix the notification of new posts showing up, you have to go into user settings and turn it on instead of email notifications as your preferred method of notification.

Game starts at the next hour actually.

I was gonna play more Arma tonight :P But oh well.

Had to make you scum because literally nobody wanted to be scum. But I kept your role the same.

I mean this idea was intended to be either, and you know me, I'm a scum sided player.

Can confirm, that did indeed fix notifications, though the current state of the forum the sound is both the "Yo!" and the default windows sound.... I'll deal with it for now though.

So Retal, my role: I'm a mirror. I have no powers except voting. However, first person to use a power on me at night gets it reflected back on them and I copy their powers.

Oh buddy look what happened.

I really want to know how that works with mine because I consume items to do actions!

I had forgotten items were a thing.

I am the SMS Habsburg commanded by the esteemed Miklos Horthy. I can shoot a shell every night that either roleblocks a player, roleblocks all visiting players, or reveals to the target who visited them. I only have 2x of each shell. Otherwise I'm daykill bulletproof.

Sounds like good utility

I think it's more town utility than anything, but we can be creative because we can plan together.

We'll have to see if I get anything from mojo/what it is.

Do you copy day actions or just night ones?

I don't know. As written I'd say day actions are fair game, but I don't know if Jeod actually intended that.

So mojo might have ubercharged himself XD!!!

Exactly, and I would get a copy of ubercharge and probably any other abilities he has.

I need intel Orange. Who's Shade's favorite Magic characters and if you can't answer that, what kind of characters would those be?

I expect them to be morally ambiguous at best considering his avatar.

We haven't discussed MtG. We have mostly talked about D&D where he complained about it being terribly designed and basically said it should be more like MtG but like most Shade rants I didn't give it much thought.

That's honestly for the best because I have no idea what he could possibly be talking about either.

TBH this was also like 1-2 months ago too so I don't remember much either. Oh, other than there's this tabletop called Lancer he's practically enthralled with, but I highly doubt that has anything to do with this, as it's a mech combat game.

I wonder if Shade's lying about the color of his character and just using the mana symbol to declare he's an MTG character.

That's a possibility, but my knowledge of MtG literally only goes as far as knowing there are different colors.

One word summaries: White = Equality Blue = Knowledge Black = Power Red = Freedom Green = Nature

If you can figure out which of those aspects is most appealing to shade as a role design, you can figure out what kind of abilities he would have (a blue or green character would be really unlikely to have a vig role).

Eh, Black or Red if we're talking purely philosophically/politically, I can't say how that'd translate to mafia role design, but he's a min-maxer for sure.

90% chance he's a kill role then.

He probably has some gimmick though.

How likely would he be a minotaur pirate?

Is that a thing in MtG?

<https://scryfall.com/search?as=grid&order=name&q=type%3Aplaneswalker+color%3DBR>

I feel like I've seen some of these before.... (Not in the context of Shade, the answer to your question is "Beats me!")

I'm surprised they've only made 5 B/R planeswalkers.

I regret not getting the 100$ cnc remastered collection version QQ.

What's in the 100 version that's not in the less expensive version?

I actually had a bet that I won and someone's going to get me that as my reward.

Metal mammoth tank, light up and sound playing tesla coil and obelisk.

Ah, actual physical products, nice.

Still, the original bet was "10 dollar game on steam in local currency (they're canadian) so I think I'll let them off the hook with just the digital version lol

The remastered collection helps you appreciate how far RTS mission design has come lol.

I dunno I personally kinda prefer the classics.

They're great until you have to destroy everything on the map long after you've won TS nod laser fence flashbacks. Also there's just not much unit variety.

Eh I don't recall that being a problem in TS too often. Is TS in the collection?

No, I just played a modded TS GDI campaign (until it bugged out) and it was irritating to the extreme lol.

I mean, just like fan fiction, there's that rule that 90% of user made content is crap.

It was actually the vanilla campaign maps and objectives, just rebalanced and additional units.

Oh, a rules.ini. Yeah, I used to love making those.

Tib sun warzone. Had graphics overhaul too I believe. Was actually pretty good looking. Tib sun for me is forever the "I like what you're trying, but I don't think you pulled it off" cnc for me.

TD and TS were actually always my favorites, well and RA1.... TS maybe slightly behind TD.

You'll like the remaster then. The graphics and interface changes were huge in making those playable for me.

TD was my first video game ever, so I guess I have very special nostalgia for it.

I'll be back in probably 40ish minutes.

The notion we might not have a choice in trusting Shade makes me actually think he's Angrath...

Never mind.

And back, a bit early.

Are our night actions and the team night kill separate?

I don't know, but given last time I insisted they weren't and Jeod apparently did it the other way, I think, I'm going to go with we can do both.

If they are it makes the illumination shells really good for alibis.

Yeah, though with me it always depends on what I get from other people too.

Someone's going to cop you N1, get a reflected town result, and then you claim to be the cop.

The reflect goes away if I have someone else's power so if I take mojo's power N1 they'd see me until I use the powers I have. Though if all I get is day ubercharge I could avert that by using ubercharge right away. I could logically do that and explain it as town by saying I want my reflect back because it protects me from the nk cause it'd be reflected ;)

I don't think mojo's ubercharge is going to be an actual thing. Unless by no jeod meant he'll resolve it in the morning (because of the role interplay).

shrug

You should ubercharge me in the guise of trying to create super horthy.

I think the no really did just mean he'd do it in the morning. But yeah, if I get it, finding a way to get it onto you would be a good play, if I could do it without suspicion.

You have it backwards. Someone insisted they were separate and I said otherwise. Or maybe I changed it depending on the game. Anyway, for this game at least, your standard nightkill takes the place of any other night action you might use (excluding using items).

Rip scum.

I mean, that's what I always insist, so it must be changed.

So ubercharge was a bit underwhelming. Makes me the obvious choice for carrying N1 NK though.

Anywho, I'm not exactly "here" yet, got things to do, just popping in right as I wake up.

I'm going to be pro-Mojo, at least for now. You can be anti, if you want, or not, I'll leave your strategy up to you, but part of blending in for me is just making logical arguments and this is where I have to be for now. If we really want to eliminate him D1 (which for the record, Mojo, when you read this, I'll feel really bad for this) I can feign changing my mind later, it's still early in the day.

The hilarious thing is shade and ilts seem intent on calling mojo sus for this despite what I'm saying so maybe I can't even counter-jerk him out of it even if I wanted to/was town.

I honestly agree with them that mojo is sus. We're better leaving him alive and having me get some rapport with illumination shells.

Mojo might actually be the doctor though (TF2 medic). If he's not I'd argue he's trying to put attention on himself.

I mean, it's kinda weird he was like "No matter what I do, you guys call me suspicious, so I'm not gonna do anything" Then he immediately does something... but there's a axiom on MU that says when someone's that big of a hypocrit they're usually town but since I'm not town I'm not gonna bring out the big gun arguments like that.

I'm tempted to fire an illumination shell over irish.

A decent option.

The problem is if they figure out the kill and actions are exclusive. This is why I prefer the kill being a free action in power role games :v.

I do plan on coming clean about my role probably D2, and I think I can spin it pretty pro-town so that might buy us some time.

I think everyone has pretty pro town roles because no one designed scummy roles XD

This one was kind of an "either-or" design.

I am trying to determine if I'm better off siding with or against shade (and by extension you).

You are being a bit too non committal with your arguments around shade.

No, my stance is clear, people just didn't get it. My frustration with Cat 5 is genuine.

That's good then.If you can clarify your position better you should be less sus in the pile that's forming around shade.

At least I'm apparently protected today too.

I'm tempted to argue against you poorly to make your job easier. It should be simple because I am bad.

So if Jeod lets the shenanigans pass, we'll have one time lynchproof from mojo at some point and iLTS can give himself invulnerability.

I'm not too worried about ILTS at this stage.

But we caught him venting!

Yeah, and the longer we can keep him around as a distraction, the better ;)

Yeah I was thinking this might be a good game to keep Cat5, Shade, and iLTS alive. I was just laying out that they can't surprise us with those actions anymore.

Cat 5 worries me, but that's based on reputation, so we'll just have to see.

I feel cat5's been weaker than usual in the last couple of games we've played. He's also been choosing self protection abilities quite often.

Yeah, like I legit am not impressed with his arguing here, but doesn't mean it can't get better later.

Wait is it possible that we're both effectively bulletproof?

Assuming nobody else uses an action on me first, someone shooting me would indeed reflect back at them, at least for a night shot, not sure about a day shot since Mojo didn't reflect.

A bit distracted because keeping up with this, also eating lunch, and helping Sunflower upgrade her PC. So hard to get straight answers from part listings about if they're compatible sometimes...

<https://pcpartpicker.com/list/> - This is what I used to build my desktop. Has pretty good compatibility charts.

I think you'll be fine once you have time to flesh out your thoughts.

It was a power supply, all I wanted to know was if it indeed was a standard 24 pin type, was incredibly hard to find out. I know most PSUs are, but I'd like to be 100% sure especially as I'm not going to be there when the parts get installed.

Nice job on making me momentarily forget you're my partner, but that makes it easier to argue with you. The only logical conclusion is I'm addicted to arguing.

My immediate impression of shade's bait question was that he could be some kind of neutral role this game.

I guess it hasn't been said, but 12 player game, 2-scum 10-town isn't balanced, so...

If someone starts asking how many scum there are don't let it slip there's only two of us.

What are you talking about? There's you Jeod and me.

I'm the GM, though, remember.

That's what I said, Orange, Orange, and Retaliation.

Heh, new idea for a role for a CYOR "The GM: General Manager"

Yes shade, we're trying to figure out if you're town or not publicly in order to kill you.

I recently reconnected with the crowd of people from the forum I recruited Shade from... it's been fun updating them on his antics.

I've been wondering how much more competitive among us play applies to mafia like if a policy of always no lynching D1 is actually good.

I wish I could have joined you guys for a few rounds of that, but my September-October was pretty busy with some family emergencies.

I only ended up playing that first day XD. I've just been watching a lot of streams because it's good background entertainment (half the time the streamer is dead anyway).

Maybe Shade IS the neutral/TP.... That would actually be on brand for him.

Yeah this line of questioning is very not town.

I mean, at first I thought he might just be tunneled on me... it's happened before... but no... I have a feeling...

I always assume Shade's going to try to have third party roles.

I think Shade's logic is backwards. Scum would try to push a lynch on third parties because they're uncontrollable.

Not always, but most of our playerbase on this site has that opinion. Like if he's third party I'd be one of the few willing to cut a deal so if he's attacking me he's really shooting himself in the foot.

It's hard to do that without a mason doc though.

I think if Shade's neutral/TP that looks bad for Cat5 and iLTS and okay for you.

I don't think I was ever in any actual danger, but yeah, Shade going galaxy brain does take the pressure off.

If town locks onto the idea that there's scum in the Orange/Cat5/Snipe group they could get to you via process of elimination. Being the least sus in that group is always good for later on.

We tend to be awful at looking backwards when making cases though. I think I was the main one doing that in kaiju mafia.

I still can't believe I was right on Cat5 but punted every single time lol.

In a 12 person game we have lots of people to point the finger at too. I'm going to eventually pull a "Irish's role sounds similar to mine" card and use that to throw shade.

Reminder that I can't use my role block visitor ability on the same person we kill. I originally thought I could use it to prevent protection until I remembered I'd roleblock the player.

Unfortunately I probably can't do that on you to protect from investigation abilities.

Assuming I don't get saturated, one investigation on me isn't the end of the world.

I'm kind of self conscious about my role because Jeod said it was terrible and he loved it. IS THAT GOOD OR BAD D:

I think shade might be frankenstein.

Lol mindmeld.

I asked him that before I read your comment here.

I've been thinking that ever since he talked about controlling people.

Looking back I think Shade is sus of you partly due to the mojo play. Which explains why he won't take mojo up on volunteering.

How blatant do you have to be as scum buddies if it was Mojo and Me to do that especially when I was in no danger of being voted.

It's mojo.

I thought Shade WAS Frankenstein and was trying to make his monster that game.

Yeah me too.

Cyor III he was Victor Frankenstein.

You know what we do with liars.

I think he was making a joke about not being FrankenSTIEN.

Do we go with the make peace with the third party like you and sunflower did that game :P?

I don't think we have enough time left in the phase to do anything about him today.

I meant more long term.

What are the chances that snipe is a serial killer and panicked because he is scum?

I mean, I wasn't just making stuff up when I said he's done this before though, so I'm not so sure.

You know... I was mainly playing up how Irish sounds similar to me just so I'd have someone else to aggro against potentially... but he really does kinda sound a bit like me...

[Night one]

So it's obvious I should carry the NK. Question is who. I'll let you lead with ideas, though I do have a few of my own.

I don't even know who's playing this game. Louis could be a wacky one. KY is always into dying D/N1.

I wish I knew what I should do :V. Defaulting to helping Irish's party be properly spooky with smoke.

I was thinking we off Shade, both because he could be dangerous, some others appear to have defenses, and that way he can't share the results of whatever his experiment is.

He's pretty likely to visit Irish tonight. We can save him for later if he decides to be dangerous.

Well the added benefit is it could frame Irish. That's the thinking. Plus if his experiment confirms Irish town, that doesn't get out.

It's not a bad plan, I just think if I'm going to be roleblocking players that visit Irish, we can do it later.

What will be your alabai though?

I roleblocked everyone because it was funny.

I dunno how well that will go over :p

I'm pretty sure I can argue my way out of it. Why not just claim I tried to visit Irish and was roleblocked?

That's a better argument.

Actually yeah, claim I was trying to illuminate things when I was the roleblocker the whole time!

Maybe we can eliminate Cat 5 for being a detractor of mine.

He's very likely to just be hard to kill passively. He doesn't generally have enough time to play these days so he's lower priority imo. He's less of a priority than others.

Others sound like they have defenses and it's rude to kill nebies/afks.

We could flip a coin. Heads we kill FRAYDO, tails we kill FRAYDO.

He tends to pick defensive roles, no indication so far like some people, but just knowing him...

KY?

Possibly though he's an easy one for me to manipulate.

I think we might be worrying too much about passive defenses. Neither of us have anything to get around them, but Jeod did say this game is likely to be unbalanced.

We could obtain ways to get around them though.

Maybe, I don't really view cat5 as a strong threat these days. I might be underestimating his town play because he's been scum a lot.

Chopbam, KY, and FRAYDO are the players who I know I'll underestimate and then be surprised when they make big plays.

Will you be on tomorrow morning? I need to sleep on this... I'm still out of sorts due to timechange.

Probably. Depends if I remember to look at the doc with my like 20 open tabs XD.

Heh I know the feeling. I'm going to go to bed now though. Feel free to free associate in here though.

I do think we need to worry about a strong third party role competing with us. I wouldn't be surprised to see a serial killer. Would explain why I'm day bulletproof and you're effectively night bulletproof.

I guess, if those are who you want on the chopping block, I can agree to FRAYDO. Only if you're going to do the RB all visitors to Irish thing though.

After lunch I'll go ahead and submit it but if you do happen to pop in and decide on something else there should be time to change it.

I'm fine with this plan.

That awkward moment when you almost submit the nightkill in a PM you have discussing Star Trek with Shade. (Did not do it, don't worry)

It was on top and the PM title is "Star Trek CYOR" and I saw CYOR and on top and I was like "Yeah, this has to be it... whoops, nope!"

When is it best to claim you were roleblocked? Immediately?

For you, yes probably. I'm going to just say I did nothing.

Also you might get some suspicion on you, and I might mildly buy into it, just for distancing, but I'll try not to push too hard.

FRAYDO the final answer for kill? I'll lock it in a half hour.

Locked in.

Yeah, not like we had much info to really decide so it was as good as any pick probably. I still kinda wanted to take Shade out of the equation, but if we're not this will probably generate at least some cover, which is all we can ask for. I just hope FRAYDO isn't the cactus again or something.

[Day two]

Got a dragonball from FRAYDO

I was roleblocked, but...

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6AicW3Xp9EM>

I believe Irish blocks you when you visit and hands out a golden ticket.

Ironie.

Also I don't think anyone visited me as I didn't transform.

Transform? What is this, werewolf?

Well whatever would happen if I stole a power :P

Tbh should've just been a Ditto.

Dittos don't reflect.

What if you copy a Mr. Mime?

I think I should claim tomorrow that the ticket was stolen.

Yeah not a bad idea.

Why does FRAYDO have a dragonball.

Doesn't particularly seem themed to him... could have been passed to him and then I picked it up.... Or maybe they're randomly distributed... it doesn't do anything, but it implies there's more and we have to bring them together. Oh it says something about granting a wish if we do.

It's town to be ambiguous about what I think happened here correct?

Not ness in this case. Though giving Irish a chance to explain first might be the town thing to do.

Is iLTS necro isaac clark hiding in vents?

Honestly that could fit the theme, and we do love our Deadspace

As I said in the thread, AFK for a bit.

I'm playing minecraft so I only check this page intermittently anyway.
I think Shade has some passive protection.

If I thought I'd be sus for not visiting anyone guess I'm off the hook.

Why is your avatar a dragonball now KY?

KY isn't here?

I was being a bit rhetorical. He might be why we have dragonballs in game.

That'd be on brand for him. I shouldn't tip that I have one though.

Be careful because he might have a dragonball radar. If scum is expected to incidentally collect dragonballs then they could point to scum.

Hmmmm, maybe, but I can play it off as just careful town cause I'm always careful, unless he just goes full attack mode. He'd have to piece together what happened on his own though and form an accusation.

Also shade seems clueless.

Apparently he didn't get the golden ticket.

"If you have this ticket, you are not roleblocked when visiting the chocolate factory. Ticket expires after use."

Guess you're just special.

Yeah without the ticket I wouldn't be able to figure out that Irish probably blocks people who visit.

Maybe he passed you the ticket but that occurred after your visit so you were still blocked at first but next time would be different.

I think he's forced to pass a ticket to one player who visits him. Shade and I are probably the only ones to have visited him and he suspects shade's not on the level.

I don't think it'd work that way cause it would require user input after orders are already submitted, and Jeod wouldn't do that.

RNG then maybe.

Mine works on order of operations. First gets reflected and stolen. As in, the order they resolve, not who is quickest on the PM.

That would explain it. Shade would have no way of getting the ticket because I would always be first (and preventing him from visiting).

I'm reasonably certain that iLTS is the man with the mysterious infected dagger.

I should probably take this chance to explain what I think because Irish is probably going to be low activity.

Yeah, might as well, though state it's because Irish is low activity that you're taking the liberty.

Interesting info from KY....

I think Shade might be Universe-Braining that we're talking to each other.

If he whines about me arguing against him I'm going to divert it onto KY.

Lol it's me and KY, bake em away toys.

I guess he's Alternate Universe Braining.

You should make the point that I already knew why shade was roleblocked.

I hope this isn't too much bussing.

I think if anyone's getting bussed this game it's you. To the point that you pushing me looks good for me!

But seriously, the you-KY team looks more obvious than me-KY. Shade is just a galaxy brain. I'm surprised Cat 5 sided with him but maybe I overreacted and it looked bad. I was kind of in a bad mood though because I had a massive nosebleed right as I was starting dinner.

Too much animes.

Figure actually being productive will probably improve my image, and I can do that, since this knife isn't us.

She told me to say, it's definitely iLTS.

I feel like either iLTS didn't read the thread, or he's really bad at this.

I can't tell if we should leave him alive or not.

I guess we're better off making him waste his vent.

Cool role FRAYDO.

I suspect this is going to be a very killy game.

I was half-hoping to reflect a kill.

I'd say push iLTS and hope he goes after you like he apparently did with Shade.

I did respond to his response of my comment with kind of a puzzled face hoping for him to clarify... I might come back and push on that, but I gotta afk for the moment.

I would push that comment myself, but I think it's better if I give you some space to push.
For one thing, he's completely ignoring that the roleblock seems to come from Irish and is trying to pass it off onto us.

Yeah, I'll post something when I get back about it, probably not much will happen between now and then.

I'm trying to lay down my thoughts as well as helping. He's probably using some of his thoughts as saying they're mafia's.

I'm tempted to smoke shell myself N2 and claim my ticket was stolen.

Hot box it!

We should make a table for claimed actions. Leaving players who seem to have no actions alive is probably how we can win late game.

Orange	Kill
Retail	Roleblocked
Shade (suspected)	Roleblocked	JK, ACTUALLY	TOWN THIS	WHOLE TIME
iLTS (suspected)	Infected (Claimed mobile)
Cat5
KY	Claimed no visit
Chopbam	Claimed no visit
Irish	No visit	DEAD
Mojo	Claimed no visit
Anon
Louis	(Initial read town)	DEAD
FRAYDO	DEAD

We have a lot of doing nothing.

That's why I'm wasting time with this.

I meant people claiming that lol

I could only find snipe and KY claiming something.

Did Cat 5? Still... that's a large chunk if you technically include me.

Cat5 shot down your attempt pretty hard. I think I remember Chopbam might have said something and Irish is unlikely to have done anything.

Tosses dragonball Well get checking, not like anyone's posting ;)

@iliketothrow why is cult NOT the first thing you think about with an infected knife? Needs moar warhammer.

It's dangerous to comment on if the infection attack was us or third party so I'll let you do it.

Never mind lets go ham.

TBH I'm going to go to bed soon, I can feel that I'm not completely "with it" this late at night.

You should try volunteering for Shade's experiment.

I hate how shade's convinced that we roleblocked him. I mean we were trying to, but that's beside the point!

Shade's doing the "I won't deny I'm neutral but I won't confirm I am" thing isn't he.

Wondering if I actually roleblocked Shade but Jeod didn't update my shells.

Found where mojo and chop claimed no visit.

I think cat5 must die now. He's liable to figure out that I don't actually push you (because I don't pay attention to what you post)

Hammering Shade on not being able to trust him due to making stuff up like with the knife is probably a good way to deflect.

I'll just point out killing Cat 5 earlier because he was on my case was one of the things I suggested :P

I was hoping he'd latch onto iLTS D2 but that didn't happen!

I think snipe is doing the same thing we're doing and distracting town with off topic talk.

TBH I'm just being legit lazy today.

You might have perspective slipped there.

Which statement? About the only other option?

Ha we got him to vent.

Well you handled it so nvm, but the whole calling him tp too much, you should throw in it might be a mafia gambit too, because focusing on him doing the knife as tp too much might give away that WE are the mafia.

True true. I'm kind of trying to not antagonize him too much.

On the plus side, this is making shade look bad and by extension you look good.

Yeah, sadly I don't think we can call Shade mafia, but it validates my argument with him.

I think he may be the TP and is trying to clear himself by claiming to have been attacked.

Is Shade capable of that?

I don't know, but it would explain why he has no idea how to describe how he was attacked.

It's hard to scum hunt when the only ones posting are apparently scum and neutrals.

Yeah... we have a lot of inactives....

So who do we want to rid ourselves of? KY could work with us, but I seem to recall he turned you down last time you offered cooperation...

Yeah he did turn me down. TBH he might be the easier kill, and honestly, while he's probably benign, there's always the small chance he's not, so it might actually be a good move in the long run.

It's funny how that Shade suddenly thinks being neutral is a crime now that he has to interact with neutral players.

Yeah this is the exact same thing he pulls every game.

It's hard to decide if he's town, neutral or TP though. He seemed fine to let me have my neutral suspicion so I wonder if it's because he prefers I think that.

Irish won't vote KY is problematic.

That's fine we're in a better position to acquire the dragonballs anyway.

Idea: We use the dragonballs to wish for actions that change alignments to town. Everyone wins.

Why not wish for them to all be mafia and join us instead ;)

I think Jeod would make the action single use.

An action that changes the target into Shade

I think you can afford to be more supportive of Shade, but I also tend to think that fence sitting is scummy.

The thing is Irish is being confident on KY not being a threat, so it's not really my treatment of Shade that's in question, it's my handling of KY.

Bad news, I can't pass the golden ticket.

That is a shame indeed. Anywho I have to afk to make dinner now.

I think we have our answer to why no one wanted to be scum btw.

If you want to offer alternatives to KY's role going for an angle where he's a dragon ball hunter might be good.

Yeah I might push that, but I think for the moment I've said enough.

We're already in the top 3 for most activity which means no one will suspect us because it's W3Dhub mafia.

If cat5 is claiming self watcher, what are the chances he's also protected?

We're getting into an awful lot of protections.
We don't really have ways around them either.

You could kill Irish, it's that simple. As for everyone else, there may be a degree of bluffing/we haven't confirmed anything/most of the people with protection are us.

Yeah eventually I'll have to kill Irish. I'm uncomfortable playing without my alibi though.

Are we getting sus on cat5? What is this.

Shade is just going through his BS roulette. I might appease him a bit by saying he can be lumped with the non-movers.

"He agrees with me so he's scum!"

He's so close to being self-aware, heh.

Self awareness is the next step in his AI routines.

Louis is our likely 3rd dragonball owner.

"Yoink"

I'm going to have to lie about using the ticket on Irish.

You know where liars go.

It's either that or use it up N2. I guess I actually have a reasonable argument to not waste ammo on someone with self protection.

Maybe you should just kill him.

I don't think I can get away with it N2. I'd have to plan out my excuse beforehand.

Maybe if we get the dragonballs we can use the wish to deal with him or something.

He has a dragonball :V. That's another complication if someone can detect who has dragonballs.

Illumination shells are such a town ability I could justify visiting and possibly get away with it. Honestly I'm less likely to be scouted by trackers than you are.

Yeah and a tracker won't work on me so I hope they do visit.

We need to engineer a cat5 lynch I think. Shade has a point that cat5 has been a bit unreasonably supportive toward Shade.

Yeah I think I'll go after Irish and claim I was attempting to illuminate him. If the dragonball has a ##pass action I should be able to send it to you N3.

Okay and I can kill Louis to get the last one.

Anywho, as I said in the thread, I need to head to bed. I left it open for KY or Cat 5, but tried to shut down Shade opening up the vote pool too much. You can focus it in a bit more over night if you want and I can join in in the morning appearing more decisive after "thinking it over" while away.

I think I'm heading to bed as well. I was going to try and defend cat5 poorly. It's kind of awkward because I didn't really pay attention to any of the interactions between you, cat5, and shade.

Actually they suspect mafia has roleblock immunity anyway so it's not as bad if I visit Irish the night he dies.

What website should I be using to look up roles I don't know?

The longer the game goes the harder it is for cat5 to justify how long he's lived...

Rage against the machine

Most amazing Shade post ever.

Psst, this is where you link your post about your roleclaim.

I never miss an opportunity to dunk on Shade though.

I'm setting you up to bat and you're playing basketball?!1!?!1!11

I'm sorry, but calling Shade "reasonable" was just too much. I couldn't resist.

But Shade, are we actually being trolled?

Picture of Shade below. Didn't fit on this page.

This is a trainwreck.

It'd be a lot easier if ILTS couldn't vent.

He's mostly suspicious because he freaked out and vented D1.

I think KY could be evil Shenron who gets powered up once the dragonballs are used.

I mean, both in here, and in there, I'm all for being omniscient of these people not on a side.

That's why I suspect you're mafia based on D1.

"Meta"

Do I oppose you here? I think it makes sense for me to do that because you're pushing KY based on a possible connection with me.

If this is to work you can't oppose too hard. Actually no. It's more of the "We can't have 3 neutrals, that's an unrealistic win con, we might as well kill all of them anyway, scum are more likely to get dragonballs than town so might as well remove them if they get removed". The connection to you is just one bit that I've mostly dropped.

I'll lead with that then to give you a chance to talk me down. Hopefully we're being sneaky enough to avoid thoughts that we're collaborating.

TBH I'm pretty sure no one suspects we're a team.

Let's keep it that way then :D.

Why not Shade? Is it to keep the iLTS/Shade pair unresolved?

Cause shade can still visit me ;) (Hopefully)

I want to see how iLTS's sabotage interacts with your passive.

Seriously, I want to reflect a hostile action so badly.

Should have left FRAYDO alive.

I was just thinking, it's going to be obvious to anyone with half a brain that Louis is the NK target, so it might actually be a good time for you to blast Irish to get that dragonball instead tonight.

Why louis???

Cause she has the other known dragonball.

Ahhhhh. That depends on them still working without KY.

I have a feeling they will, but true. The item description seems to imply the balls themselves grant the wish, and some character isn't required.

It's possible he's not Shenron. People usually try and lie about their exact flavor (see my avatar).

Do you bastards not do remote raids in PoGo? I live near a gym, so I can raid from my house. Orange, given you're in the middle of nowhere I kind of expected you to jump at the opportunity. I had to make my wife download the game again so I could catch a Golurk.

I'm rarely on my phone so I never see the notification.

I stop playing PoGo when it gets too cold. Then coronavirus happened so I didn't pick it up again.

They made it pretty easy to play from home for awhile, but rolled back some of the bonuses, despite the fact things are now at an all time high...

Also, as of tomorrow... I'll finally be able to submit/review pokestops...

The remote raid passes and ability to invite your friends across the country to your raids really saved the game for me. I actually fired up Let's Go to get a second mysterious box and get Melmetal.

I've managed to catch a few, mostly when people invite me and I'm already in the game and notice. Gotten two legendaries that way which is good because around here there's never a group big enough to get a legendary in person.

I can't get any mega raids done, sadly. I'm also sad that I missed out on the Regi trio.

Regiice was actually one of the only level 5s I did in person back in the day ironically. Most people didn't raid them much because they're useless in competitive, though I like them for dex filler of course, and all raids are good for the xp, but it just happened to be the day it was released so everyone was still excited for it and a huge crowd was there.

Shade's been hanging around mafia a lot. I think that's a bit sus.

We should out ourselves and say Shade is our partner :v

I'm tempted to argue that Shade's actually mafia and you're scum buddies.

You're starting to get too all over the place. You need to start endgaming D2.

Now you know why I had no idea what to do in that game where Sun and I were mafia against Jeod, KY, and you.

Pick KY, Shade, or someone, and it's time to ride or die, baring something big happening the rest of the day.

I was planning on going after Shade.

Making KY/Shade both viable is probably good, it would keep people like Cat 5 and Irish focused on deciding between them, and thus not deciding on me.

Plus, we can play, D3 "Well, let's just resolve the other one"

That's why I was tempted to make the argument Shade's mafia with you. I think he'll be lynched first and flip as not mafia and might rub off on you.

If you have an actual argument that'll do that, but I'm not aware of one that's been put forth.

I think I could make one. Why he doesn't seem to be affected by the attack, why your interaction with Shade D1 struck cat5 as weird, why he's okay pushing cat5 in general.

See my interaction with Shade D1 wasn't weird, it was based on a misunderstanding of what "higher" and "lower" meant when I talked about where people ranked. Everyone thought "higher" meant "more likely to be scum" but I meant it as "more likely to be town" and as soon as I cleared that up people got it. But it was a long journey to get there because we didn't understand that was the problem.

Sure but I don't know if town fully understands that.

More importantly I want to be able to flip the vote from choosing between two TP candidates to mafia vs TP. I could try and do that D3 though.

Having to explain it again is probably not going to be a good thing because the more I explain the more people think I'm scummy so just don't touch it. It doesn't matter that we're right, people just see me getting worked up about the argument again and assume I'm the scum.

I could make a case without relying on how you and him have interacted.

That would be better.

Shade's going no lynch??

Lol, new plan.

I approve of no lynch by lynching shade.

Shade's going to try and kill you and figure out that doesn't work.

It'd be great if he knifed himself.

Again!

Somebody gets to test their character is a threat correct?

I'm guessing Shade's a lich.

Maybe we'll have undead Cat 5.

Going to need to wish for blessed shells then.

I feel like Shade is going to try and take over your body.

Honestly, if he does, Kudos... I really want to see him interact with my passive.

If it's item based he might be able to get around it.

Sounds like the item goes to a random person, and the item might have to be used or something. The way he's talking, the pool of who gets the item might even be all players, not just who voted him.

I can't tell if he suspects us or not.

If he does he might not care.

It's been a major hindrance for town that the more active players are all neutral/TP.

WHY WAS YOUR CAPS LOCK ON?

I believe louis may be our thief.

From the CVC obviously, if anyone asks that unironically.

And yeah, I really think Louis needs to be the NK, sounds like she won't pass the ball, hopefully nobody watches her... sounds like maybe Cat 5 is the one that could do that so maybe you should block him.

Quick... make something up about Louis going to ask Cat 5 something in the scum doc ;)

Did I do it right?

Good showing.

As I said in the thread though, I need to go take care of dinner though, I'll probably be back before hammer, but not sure.

[Night Two]

Who we krumpin' boss?

I think I'll NK Louis and you RB Cat 5?

Also, alignment unknown.... Hmmmm....

He didn't actually die so no flip.

I was thinking about illuminating or NK Irish because I think I can get away with it.

I think I'll have a hard time explaining why I didn't illuminate Irish.

Yeah, downside is I'd just sit here, but that's probably not the worst.

Also I will argue Shade is at least temporarily "dead" or "deader" but, semantics :p

I believe the undead prefer temporarily dispossessed of flesh.

I guess we can go with this plan... guess no action required on my part then... just check back in around lunch tomorrow and confirm in case someone somehow productively nightposts.

I'm hesitant to kill Louis because she's locked onto cat5 for no apparent reason and it's difficult to convince someone out of a belief they didn't reason themselves into.

Well we'll want that dragonball eventually.

She's a good candidate for the N3 kill while I also pass you mine N3. Otherwise you'd have to wait until I pass the ball N4.

Yeah she's unlikely to pass it away I suppose. We'll have to see if anyone visits me too.

I found a picture of shade right now.

He could have avoided this.

Asking shade to not lose his mind is like asking your cat not to sit in a box.

Day 3 is going to be glorious.

Community day (1) is Sunday so I just hope things calm down by then :p

Inb4 the knife man is going to roleblock me tonight.

Should we worry about that? I have to imagine I'm one of the most likely players to be attacked.

Fun Facts: Hippos can't swim.

I don't think it's going to be particularly a problem, yeah it can happen, but it's not really to the level we need to adjust our plans. There's lots of other people that could get stabbed too.

If it does happen should I admit I was attacked or keep it to ourselves? I guess town can't be certain that scum went for a self protecting role instead.

Admitting to being attacked is probably a good way to get cred, maybe, maybe not, dunno.

It's the combo of roleblock and lack of nightkill that has me worried.

shrug
Irish is our best NK right now and you can't attack him anyway. They might go after cat5.

You may be just worrying too much.

It's my defining character trait. I'd do great on finals in college but the time between the actual test and grades coming back was a nightmare :v.

In the words of one of my professors, "It's not a problem unless there's a solution".

I mean Jeod did hint it's going to be an explosive day, but I really don't think we can do anything about it so we might as well just keep on doing what we're doing. We can't wifom ourselves out of doing a plan.

How dare this dirty TP put scum into a WIFOM situation.

Honestly both situations require me to play cool and make a convincing story so there's not much difference anyway.

With my avatar, I'm the only one allowed to play cool ;)

Only if you're actually squirtle.

He's dead Jim.
I don't know what this chocolate bar thing is about. "You can win someone over with it"

[Day 3]

Sounds like alignment change.

Does Shade like chocolate?

Probably not.

Too bad. For him.
No dragonball btw.

Maybe he did pass it... Or someone somehow stole it...

He might have passed it to louis. Stealing is also likely. Jeod might also be busy.

The nice thing is that we both have good excuses for how we can survive to the end.

Yeah I can reflect NKs, and while I've not revealed that, I've at least implied I have a defense.

I wonder if Shade's right about KY's win con...

Maybe... a bit distracted because I think my video card just died.

Oof.

iLTS has been claiming a sabotage action and this super roleblock is supposed to be me? Wonder if he's setting me up.

Fixed it.

Lol Cat 5 to the rescue.

Or not...

Eh, they're not considering the obvious that scum could have visited N1 and just not said anything.

How convincing is the WIFOM argument that scum were hoping to put suspicion my way? I think Among Us has altered how I view WIFOM (it's harder to get away with them in Among Us).

I can bring it up.

So Jeod, you work in IT. Do you know if it's possible to run windows 7 video drivers on windows 10? Apparently my video drivers were FIVE YEARS out of date, despite me updating them 2 months ago when I upgraded to Windows 10 because I was getting a black screen with the old windows 7 drivers... something must have went wrong...

What's your video card? And generally no, the manufacturer needs to make them compatible. Usually they offer different drivers per OS.

Nvidia GTX 750 Ti. And like, I have it fixed now, with the proper windows 10 drivers... but it's just bizarre how it got that way in the first place. And how it WORKED for two months. Like I was even playing the game fine for an hour before my whole computer suddenly had a stroke.

"Worked".

Seriously, I've been gaming as normal for 2 months. The first thing to go wrong was the latest patch for truck sim :v

TBH I'm probably going to upgrade my video card soon anyway though. Getting jealous of Sunflower's upgrades. Also I didn't care too much about Cyberpunk until suddenly now she wants it too like everyone else on the planet. I was more waiting for Bloodlines which I don't have to upgrade for.

You could replace your graphics card with a toaster heating element and you'd probably get better performance at this point D:.

The 750 Ti isn't bad, I can still run most things on medium. Though that may be the fact that literally everything else in my computer is way above par making up for it. 8 core 3.4 ghz processor and 24 GB ram.

I'm not sure what on earth cat5 is talking about. How does a roleblock on Irish project to Louis but not me? How would the roleblock get through Irish's protection??

Yeah that's a good question. It makes no sense. It's your turn to make the point though.

I think I understand where cat5 is at now. He thinks Louis is fake claiming being roleblocked.

Yeah to be fair I kinda threw out that possibility a bit without being too explicit about it but it was an angle I wanted kept open.

You could quite possibly blame Louis for the Irish kill if you tried hard enough.

Yeah, I'm trying to wrap my head around all the actions that could be involved in this scenario. Fortunately I don't have anything else I need to do after noon.

I think I'm going to accuse either iLTS or Louis of lying.

I mean ILTS probably is lying, the question is, about what.

I think he blocked Louis to demonstrate what going against him would entail.

What about Cat 5's bluff?

I didn't catch his bluff because I was on my phone in bed at that point.

But you did see it now, right? I'm just saying that's literally what Cat 5's bluff was but now you're legit arguing it. That's fine, I'm just making sure you know that.

Eh we have no evidence that it's false or true. From our perspective it pretty much has to be iLTS (but I need to be careful about perspective :v)

It's a good case to make, I'm just saying, be prepared for some baggage.

Also the phone meeting I had was cancelled so now I have nothing to do but mafia all day!

After lunch I plan to continue playing Arma and Truck Sim as if nothing is going on :p Colorado was supposed to release today, but they released it a day early, yesterday.

Is it worth arguing that a D2 kill on Irish is weird and possibly an attempt to frame me?

It's a decent point. I think at some point I considered making it last night but with you afk I didn't want to defend you too hard or else it'd be obvious we're teammates.

Now that we're deeper into D3 I think it's better if I make the point as something that occurred to me.

Yeah, the way the gamestate is right now you need to be the active one. I'm more positioned to be a fence sitter than is tilting towards whoever you deflect onto.

It might be worth lightly pushing me as the only one with the golden ticket so I can push back on you after I start making posts.

I've already brought up two points how that is meaningless though so that'd be a noticeable 180 from what I said last night and this morning.

Shame. Back to posting.

It's occurring to me that the funny thing is we could have done the roleblock and kill move on Irish but what's the point?!

So who do we use the chocolate bar on? It sounds so good that I can't believe that it actually converts alignment rather than forces the target to vote with you, but I think both of those abilities have the same target.

Oh I see what you mean now, yeah that was my interpretation too. I'd say Cat 5 assuming he's still alive and not suspicious of us at the end of the day.

If we assume everyone except iLTS and KY are town, how many more do we have to kill? goes to update chart

5 town are left. If we can avoid a lynch today and steal a vote we could probably force a mislynch D4 and win with a NK on N3 and N4.

Yeah pretty doable.

What was that last post 0_o

That town blocked Louis?

I guess it doesn't rule out Louis actually being scum, but now we'd need a townie to actually come forward with it... sorry, just initial reaction was like yikes.

I'm tempted to use the chocolate on iLTS just to give him something productive to chew on.

He's flown too close to the Shade ;)

I'm really curious if iLTS has figured the game out or not.

I don't think he has, he's just faking confidence, as someone who does that a lot, I can tell.

I figured, but I couldn't tell if he actually meant his town is in control bit.

It's a little funny how both of us have ways to dodge whatever ability he's claiming.

Yeah I was hoping to get stabbed.

Also did I tell you I saw a police chase the other day? (This reminded me)

Did they try chasing you and end up chasing themselves ;)?

<http://www.thexradio.com/news/78-local-news/47321-man-arrested-in-mattoon-wanted-in-area-counties>

I was parked in front of the post office doing a raid at the gym and the police fly by chasing this car, then like 2 minutes later this dude comes running across the lawn and hops the fence into the postal sorting area.

I'm tempted to try this play

<https://www.twitch.tv/jorbs/clip/SuaveAmusedTriangleGrammarKing>

<https://www.twitch.tv/jorbs/clip/ColdSpookyBibimbapPanicBasket>

Ask town if they think the kills on Irish or FRAYDO were good kills.

I'm stealing that strategy for the next game.

"So you're saying that kill on Irish was good cat5?"

It'd be worth a lol at least.

"I didn't ask if it was good, I asked if it was confirmed."

I'm going to make a case that we can't afford to go after the unaligned players because if it's 3 mafia town loses.

I just realized it's rare for me to be the NK and I don't know what to think about that.

Yeah we technically don't know how many mafia.

Yeah I'm just undecided if we want to be the one pushing that KY and iLTS are off limits. I think I do it and push for a anon/louis pair for pushing cat5.

Personally I might push KY and ILTS again so of us two it has to be you :p

Pushing that KY might be a dragonball hunter and could get to Irish that way might be fun. I'd obviously be his scum partner.

I was feeling guilty trying to push for a Louis lynch when she's innocent, but then I remembered I did that her first game.

She's out of her newbie phase, she's fair game.

Irish did die and she's playing. I think she's killed him and got away with it in an earlier game?

Yeah cause she wanted revenge for a previous game I think.

@Retaliation: Like when everyone wants passives but then nobody has any visiting actions. :v

Did you know everyone was going hard on passives when you said my role was bad :v.

Yes. :v Remember, I had to pretty much force you two to be scum.

That explains everything. I can't do anything if nobody else is.

It also gives you an alibi sort of. "I'm the only useful town here since everyone else seemed to go with passive stuff".

I think i'd be pretty strong if I was town because the only one I can mess with is scum.

I mean, if you're ever in fear of being implicated just smokebomb some random target and then do a nokill the next night and accuse someone else.

Yeah this role is literally a troll role in the hands of mafia.

We could no kill N3 to try for a mislynch and win. Chocolate probably makes it easy.

Yeah could work, especially with these numbers.

I want to argue that FRAYDO must have been a noob kill and it's very important that you argue against that.

I mean I can, but again, you're getting all over the place. You need to focus.

But memes :)

Memes are a very important foundation to society Orange.

Seriously though, I think FRAYDO's death can be evidence for Louis and Anon being together. I don't know when I'll argue it though. I might not if it doesn't become relevant.

Cat5 has lasered onto Louis.

I can't believe it took him this long, like ever since I woke up I've been expecting him to like attack her. I've been waiting to be the number two but I want him to have the idea organically himself.

Louis????

This game is a whole lotta nothing.

Cat5 dayvig?

Funny story, about an hour ago I thought about joking it'd be really nice if we had one.

Have you played Valkyria Chronicles 4?

Just the original, and I only got like half way before being distracted, though I should give it another go sometime.

I've gotten like 3 chapters away from the end in both the original and 4. It's hard to push through those later ones because game is hard D:.

Yeah, it feels like the missions have set solutions, and tbf I don't really care for games where there's only one right answer.

4 is VC1 but with much less of there being only one right way to do the mission.

Oh then that might be more enjoyable.

VC gets credit for being a WWII game in all but name but touching on things like the holocaust and disgusting medical experiments.

I mean, I always thought it was high quality, the gameplay just frustrated me a lot more than say XCOM, and that's saying something.

XCOM is a good comparison lol. I never finished 2 because the final battle is so hard.

Yeah same actually, never could beat the final battle but gotten there multiple times. On XCOM 1 Sunflower actually did an ironman no deaths run.

I did not know sunflower was a god.

On classic difficulty too! (the 3rd tier)

Anywho brb need to finish making dinner.

Wouldn't it be wild if Louis was actually the "knife" attacker this whole time?

What a twist.

We might literally win this game using no parts of our roles except that I can visit people.

Me spewing BS is always a vital part of my role.

After the beer battered cod I feel like I just have to keep going with the joke.

I don't know what we're going to do when Louis flips town and cat5 turns on us.

Turns on you. :v

(Keep pushing ILTS)

Yeah that's probably the play.

HAHAHAHAHAHAHA.

Holy cow!

Maybe nobody is town... like seriously...

Wait no... we've had dead town players...

I'm sure Irish and FRAYDO appreciate being forgotten about.

Oh snap she had both dragonballs!

I was wondering where that one went.

Irish must have passed it to her before you could have killed him.

I think she stole it. She was the spider that stole stuff in Kaiju mafia right?

Yeah, but to be the same thing again so recently? I mean I guess if you like a role, go for it.

My smoke shells are basically the protection ability Jeod wouldn't let me combo with bodyguard when I played enforcer.

Should have had smoke shells be a target marker for an artillery strike ;)

Jeod had the choice of giving me AP shells but he went with bulletproof. I was more interested in the supporting part.

If we did a no kill N3 we could try to argue that there's no mafia.

Yeah that might work.

I think the shard may be chop's tbh. He's done nothing and given away nothing about his role... it'd be a point towards him actually having a role if the shard is his.

In any case, it looks like I picked the wrong week to quit sniffing glue.

In high school, one kid asked permission to sniff glue during class, to see what it was like, and teacher said yes, so he did, and then he had to go to the nurse's office.

STOP UPVOTING MY POSTS ORANGE. We don't know if town is capable of galaxy braining and figuring out we're connected!

For posterity, Orange's scum tell is he prefers arguing with/making fun of Shade rather than being productive.

I argue with Shade regardless of alignment, and I also upvote everyone's posts regardless of alignment. I've been upvoting ILTS too :p

Why would you ever upvote anything that madman posts.

I mean, he's been upvoting my posts too :v

I'm tempted to ask for iLTS's reads if I give him my candy.

He's just too smarmy.

I want to use the candy on him on the chance that it turns him mafia and makes him pick a side.

It'd be worth it just for the show.

I feel like my serious of posts there is going to be perceived as a mental break down :P

I'm going against you here because it looks a lot like scum pushing neutral two days in a row to me.

I'm going to lol if ILTS town reads me.

Also I'll happily draw ILTS' fire cause it could reflect back at him.

I don't know why cat5's decided that Louis has a teammate.

I mean, it's possible.

As far as cat5 knows, it's possible we're not a scum team.

Orange stop him! He's using logic!

Imagine if Shade was town.

I could see it.

You should bring up his reaction to Shade's experiment.

Yeah good point.

Also the like-leaderboard is back with this forum update!

<https://w3dhub.com/forum/pastleaders/>

Shade is the 3rd top poster in all of W3D Hub... I am top, and Jeod is 2nd...

I think he's going to scumread you very hard, but not me. Ironically we want him to scum read both of us because he's likely to interpret it as a promise.

Why would he have an investigative ability?

He's claiming accurate reads.

No I mean how does it make sense for him to have that ability.

It doesn't. You're free to question how that makes sense.

His reply to me almost sounds like he doesn't suspect me....

The problem with sitting back and not scum hunting because you have the l33t reads is that you're just playing into your own biases. Or he's helping us push a case on innocent town.

Yeah that reply makes me wonder if he's about to drop a case on Chop and Anon.

Chop's usually low activity, but he feels less active than normal in this game. I don't know how he plays as scum though.

Honestly if we didn't have ILTS making a mess of things right now I'd be casing chop.

Are you saying that as scum or as town :P.

Probably more as scum :P But he's also claimed not to move. Which is sus.

I'm worried mojo is the doc and we'll hit his target tonight.
Then again we were already thinking about not killing so whatever!

Could always take out Mojo ;)

That was my thought, but he could protect himself if he's scared.

Most docs aren't allowed to self target.

It's common enough here we can't rule it out. He's a good target if cat5 is iLTS's read.

Also, ILTS' def of "almost" is a long time.

I wouldn't be protecting iLTS as town btw. Why would scum try to kill him if he has a promise of protection?

Chopbam eh?

Lol I am "town or mafia"

Say it ain't so!

I can't not think of Shade as my Jedi Master after how well we did in that Star Wars game.
Both Orange and Mojo have failed the R U Sus question, must be scum.

The Star Wars game that I won? :p

That we all won because forcing one of the last two players to become sith after they just killed the sith lord is dumb. Also force choke OP.

I'm updating the chart so we can determine how many more town deaths we need.

Have you ever considered being agent orange for one of these games?

Recently, yes.

You should push that investigating you gives town control over a copy of iLTS's ability.

Roleblocking iLTS via targeting mojo sounds like a good idea.

Yeah if he decides to go for Mojo

I think anon's the kill tonight. We could win if Shade's not town/dead at day start.

I think it's pointless to use the chocolate on iLTS, if he figures out I'm scum he knows what I did for him.

Chocolate Cat 5 then?

Yeah. He deserves it after how much he's helped us as our third mafia member.

I wonder if iLTS lied about chopbam to push suspicion away from us...

Yeah possibly.

Cat 5 is gonna be pissed when Chop flips.

Plz kill shade KY.

[Night Three]

HAHAHAHAHAA SHADE WAS TOWN

YES!

So what do I actually bombard tonight lol?

Assuming you two get a kill tonight, you still have four players to your two tomorrow. Game can still go either direction.

What the hell does chocolate actually do?!

You can win someone over with it. Think about that.

That could mean anything! Except for the things it can't mean. I've also kind of assumed it's a night action btw.

At this point if the game doesn't end tomorrow we should just offer Cat5 and Mojo the opportunity to be wished mafia.

I put in a roleblock for mojo and a chocolate use on cat5. Eh let's make that KY.

How's the dead doc btw? Are they having fun?

I switched to KY because I'm kind of suspicious that chocolate is supposed to make neutrals take your alignment. You can try to kill whoever you want.

Who are you going to block?

Mojo for now in order to avoid possible doctor nonsense.

I will NK Anon then. Won't be on much today because busy.

RIP anon. Comes in to vote iLTS when their death warrant is already signed.

Illuminating Cat5 instead of roleblocking mojo to solidify townishness.

worry

[Day Four] [Or is it?] [DUN DUN DUNNNNNNNNNN]

Visiting cat5 gives you a delayed roleblock and voteblocks you...

So KY visited him too?

Chocolate forces him to vote with me. You should negotiate with iLTS.
Hate voteblocks, they're rough and coarse and they get everywhere.

I used to request voteblocks a lot :P

I think even if I negotiated with ILTS I'd still be outnumbered, and the jig might just be up.

It's only 4 people. iLTS and you can tie every time.

How long does the chocolate work for?

Probably just this Day. KY has no chance of winning unfortunately.

Should I mask off?

There's only 3 viable scum teams all all of them involve you. You're either paired with mojo, iLTS, or me.

I guess more that was a question of keeping you a secret, but that's probably a yes... so that'd involve voting Mojo because cat 5 is obvious.

I don't think it's likely I keep hidden, but it's possible that you can convince iLTS without outing me.

How do we convince ILTS to go with us instead of just voting me with Cat 5 and Mojo? We have nothing to offer him.

Then I out myself and remind him I promised not to kill him.

Yeah though he might be agro on me to be fair lol.

But if I didn't intervene he'd be dead :v.

We can try it, but you should do the talking.

So you think I should take the mask off then?

Yeah, no way ILTS would side with me, but he may side with you, if that makes sense, I should just keep quiet.

Voting me is good btw. I can't kill the next night.

You want me to vote you?

No, I want a no lynch. If we can't avoid being voted, we need to figure out a way to have me be the one voted. It's possible mojo blocked me so he's a priority depending on his claim. I'm going to claim roleblock proof.

I really don't think Mojo can self supercharge and it's a safe swing.

I think it's worth being in a cooperative stance.

Oh so you're actually serious about converting them.

Why not :v? KY deserves a win after offing shade for us.

I think KY may be the one who delayed roleblocked me...

Ruude.

Or not, what's going on?

Maybe it was anon.

The secret plan is to bait them into lynching me. If mojo is actually third party we can win XD.

I don't think we can get the lynch on me unfortunately. Should we just concede?

If I revert to illumination shells, Cat5 shoots you and a town win is almost assured. Won't be changing anything.

Ending early would not bother me if you feel we are just dragging this out. I have spent all of my social capital.

If there's no third parties we're just dragging it out at this point. They seem like they'd rather lynch you instead of me. iLTS might be trying a gambit to get you and have cat5 waste the shot on me, but he doesn't realize I'm roleblocked.

We could have played around me getting dayblocked and roleblocked, but dayblocked and delayed roleblocked?

I'm kinda checked out anyway, so yeah, if you want my permission, sure.

Yeah if there's no other twists in store consider us dead.

The problem is Jeod can't answer our request if there is a third party in game so we might have to wait anyway :v.

I mean, if I can't answer after you both decided for forfeit, then the answer must be yes. :v

I wasn't sure if our decisions were absolute enough yet! We'll be good and keep hush hush, that's what scum do after all.

Orange how do you put up with Shade?

Arguing with him keeps my skills sharp, even if it's not the most intelligent debate.

Never mind, town might actually lynch me lololol

If I die you have to kill cat5, dayblock or not.

He has it coming shakes fist

I have obtained the C&C remastered collection, but expect it to be a few days before I download it on this slow internet. 18 GB... must have done some serious remastering indeed...

I think a lot of it is music and video.

I mean to be fair, it's two games that took up 2 CDs, so even for back in the day they were large games.

RIP ORANGE

Got a NK for me?

Am I not roleblocked? If I'm not then mojo.

[First Day After Orange]

I don't know if I can drag a win out of here, but I think I can waste enough of town's time and resources so they can't win either.

Cat5 continues to be frustratingly hesitant to just blast 'em.

Day 13: Stalemate between town and scum continues.

Day 21: New rule proposed. Only Retaliation gets to be day vig because everyone else is terribad at it.

Day 27: Hope is dying. Cat5 seems to forget that this isn't CS and there's no reward for saving the awp.

Day ???: The imposter is dead. Unfortunate.
