Read the texts

1. Don't you know Mary? She's got straight shoulder-length dark hair. She's quite tall and slim. She's got blue eyes. She's in her early twenties. She likes outdoor sports like skiing and hiking. She is a very outgoing, sociable sort of person who seems to know hundreds of people. She's very cheerful – you know, the sort of person who is always laughing. But she can be a bit disorganized. She once lost everybody's cinema tickets and we all had to pay again.

2. We had Mr Kempt for history last year. He's got a moustache and short straight hair. He's quite short and a bit overweight. He's probably in his forties. He really loves his subject and he knows a lot about history. He's also interested in climbing. He went up some of the mountains in the Tatras one year, he told us. He was a very hard-working teacher. He gave us lots of essays and always marked them quickly. He was never moody – always the same, always smiling. He was also very patient with us. If anybody didn't understand something he explained it again in a different way. He did everything he could to be helpful.

Task 3. You are going to give a talk about your friend(relative/teacher). You will have to start in 1.5 minutes and will speak for not more than 2 minutes.

Remember to say:

- what your best friend (mother/father/favourite teacher) looks like;
- what is he/she like
- what does he/she like
- what his/her qualities of character you appreciate most.

You have to talk continuously.

3. My daughter Laura is sixteen. She's quite tall especially compared to some of the girls in her class. She sometimes wears her hair up, particular when she's going out for the evening. But most of the time, for ordinary days such as school days, she wears it down to her shoulders. She wears a lot of make-up, which I don't really like, for example, of course, when she's going out in the evening.

When someone has had bad news Laura is the first to go and help. For example, when her younger brother's pet goldfish died, Laura bought him some chocolates. Laura is quite popular and nobody dislikes her. She likes people who make her laugh, such as her friend Jo, or her old dad! She also likes shopping, especially for clothes.

4. I suppose I'm not very fashionable. I like clothes which are comfortable and make me feel relaxed. I usually wear jeans and T-shirts which I buy at my local market. In the winter, I wear jumpers my mum makes for me. I hate formal occasions like weddings where you have to put on a jacket and tie. Some people who I know spend lots of money and go to shops where the prices are too high, in my opinion. I hate shopping and I always go with a friend who helps me decide. The only things I like buying are sports clothes. When I play tennis or do athletics, I like good quality clothes which are comfortable. I know there are people whose style is more elegant, but I'm happy just being me!
