

SL:Getting Your Website New Look

Hi,

I discovered your website while I was looking for Web Developers/Web Designers on Instagram.

When I came to your website, I was amazed by the number and quality of notes your site provides in 4 main programming languages.

But there is still a space for improvement in the graphic design of your website as it lacks creativity.

Using various colors and icons in each section and category will fulfill your website with creativity and might lead to a constantly shifting people's attention span.

If you want your website graphic design to improve, reply to this email to arrange a call for this week to discuss details on the future graphic design of your page.

Kind Regards,
